HERE WE GO

Again!

It was the first week of school and everyone was back to the old routine. Moans and groans most often were replaced by smiles and friends rejoining to face another year. Seniors were excited for the one and only fact that they were seniors! Sophomores found themselves with a completely new routine and a sea of a million new faces. Like the middle child juniors found themselves in the middle of the excitement. But we all had one thing in common, that this year would be the best . . . Photo 1. Getting into the swing of things — with homework, friends and new classes — the counselors made it possible for college representatives to come on campus; enabling us to see a little more what the future has to offer. Some things never change . . . 2 plus 2 equals 4, but then why did Crissy Wolfe find Algebra 2 so difficult? However Crissy's frustration was Harry Yuan's delight as he found continuing challenges in the theories and processes of the mathematic field. A strong department; from the patience of Mrs. Nakayama, the added wit of Mr. Curtin, to the calculations of Shoemaker, Scott and Tackman, students worked their way toward that final problem and exam. With the last few streamers stuck on with tape and "missing" escorts arriving within minutes of the presentation, we kicked off our "California Dream" Homecoming week. The presentation of the nominees for Homecoming Court consisted of a field of 27 "CHS Dream Girls," selected by clubs on campus. The nominees were as follows: Alma Alvarez — Nominated by M.E.C.H.A., Christie Barnes — Wrestling, Jodi Blix — F.T.A., Melissa Bowers — Girls Athletic Association, Linette Devin — Tall Flags, Suzanne Elizarraras — C.S.F., Kim Foster — Boy's Soccer, Beatrice Carlson — Balloons-N-Stuff, Cheri Lara — F.B.L.A., Renee McCall — Football, Shellie McCall — Girl's Volleyball, Stephanie Miller — S.A.D.D., Peggy Morgan — Track, Lisa Parker — Drama, Kari Pucci — Boy's Basketball, Kristie Pyles — Aerobics, Shani Redman — Letterman's Club, Francisca Rodriguez — Los Amigos, Cynthia Rosenthal — Swimming, MaryAnn Sekel — Girl's Basketball, Wendy Thomas — Madrigals, Patty Tokahuta — Pep Squad, Dawn Vineski — Oceanography, Suzy Waddell — S.A.S., Francine Watson — Softball, and Chrissy Wolfe — Leadership. Crowds of excited spectators, some making fools of themselves, like Ruben Zambrano and Donna German, came to cheer on their favorite candidates. Voting was held that day for court. The girls waited anxiously for three suspenseful days to hear the outcome of who would be our 7 "California Girls." Monday arrived along with some unexpected and unwanted, big, black rain clouds. Although the weather discouraged many from dressing up in the appropriate stuff (swim trunks for beach day, shorts for tourist day etc.) The games continued . . .

HOMECOMING

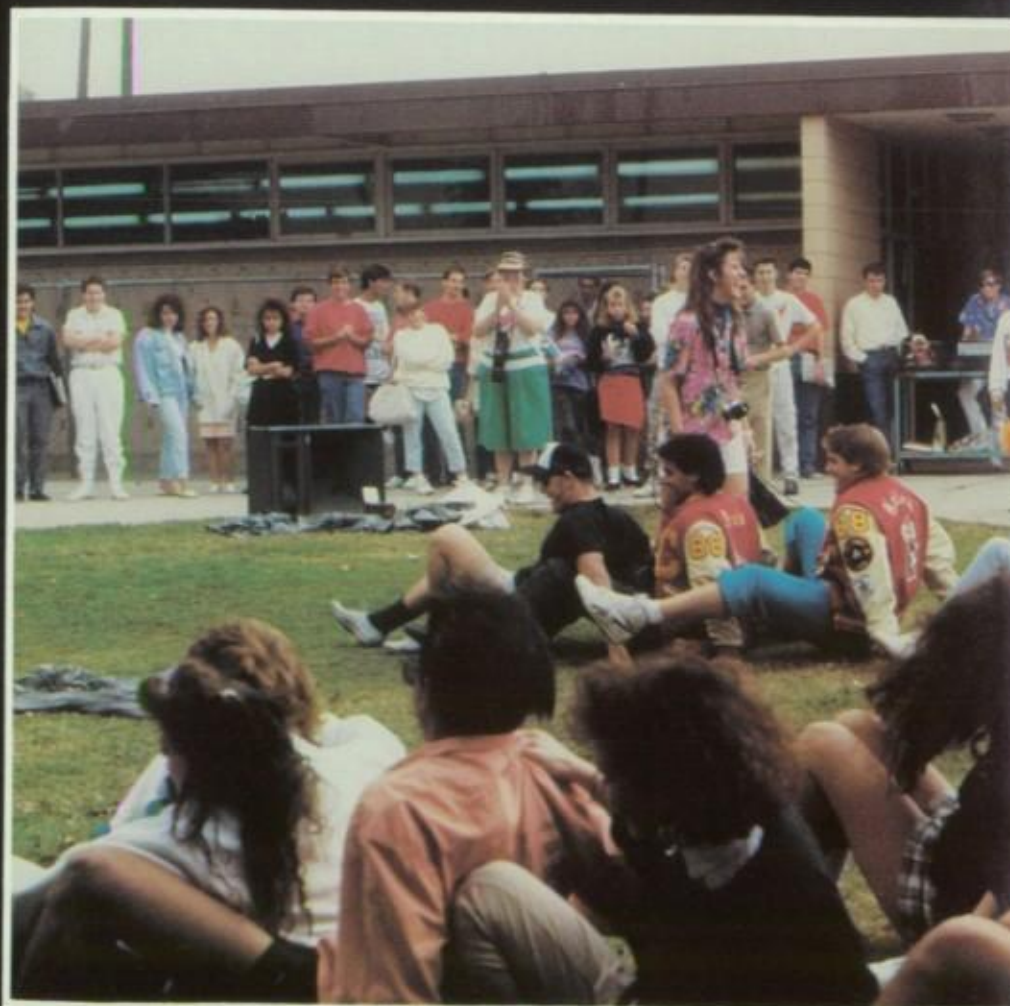

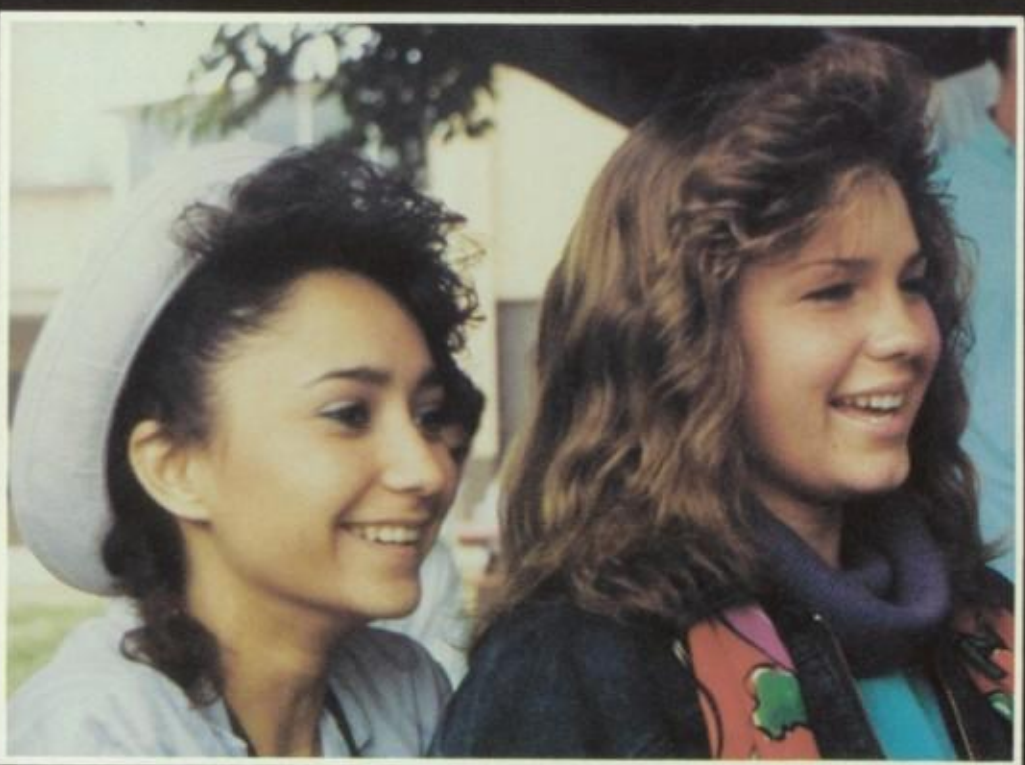

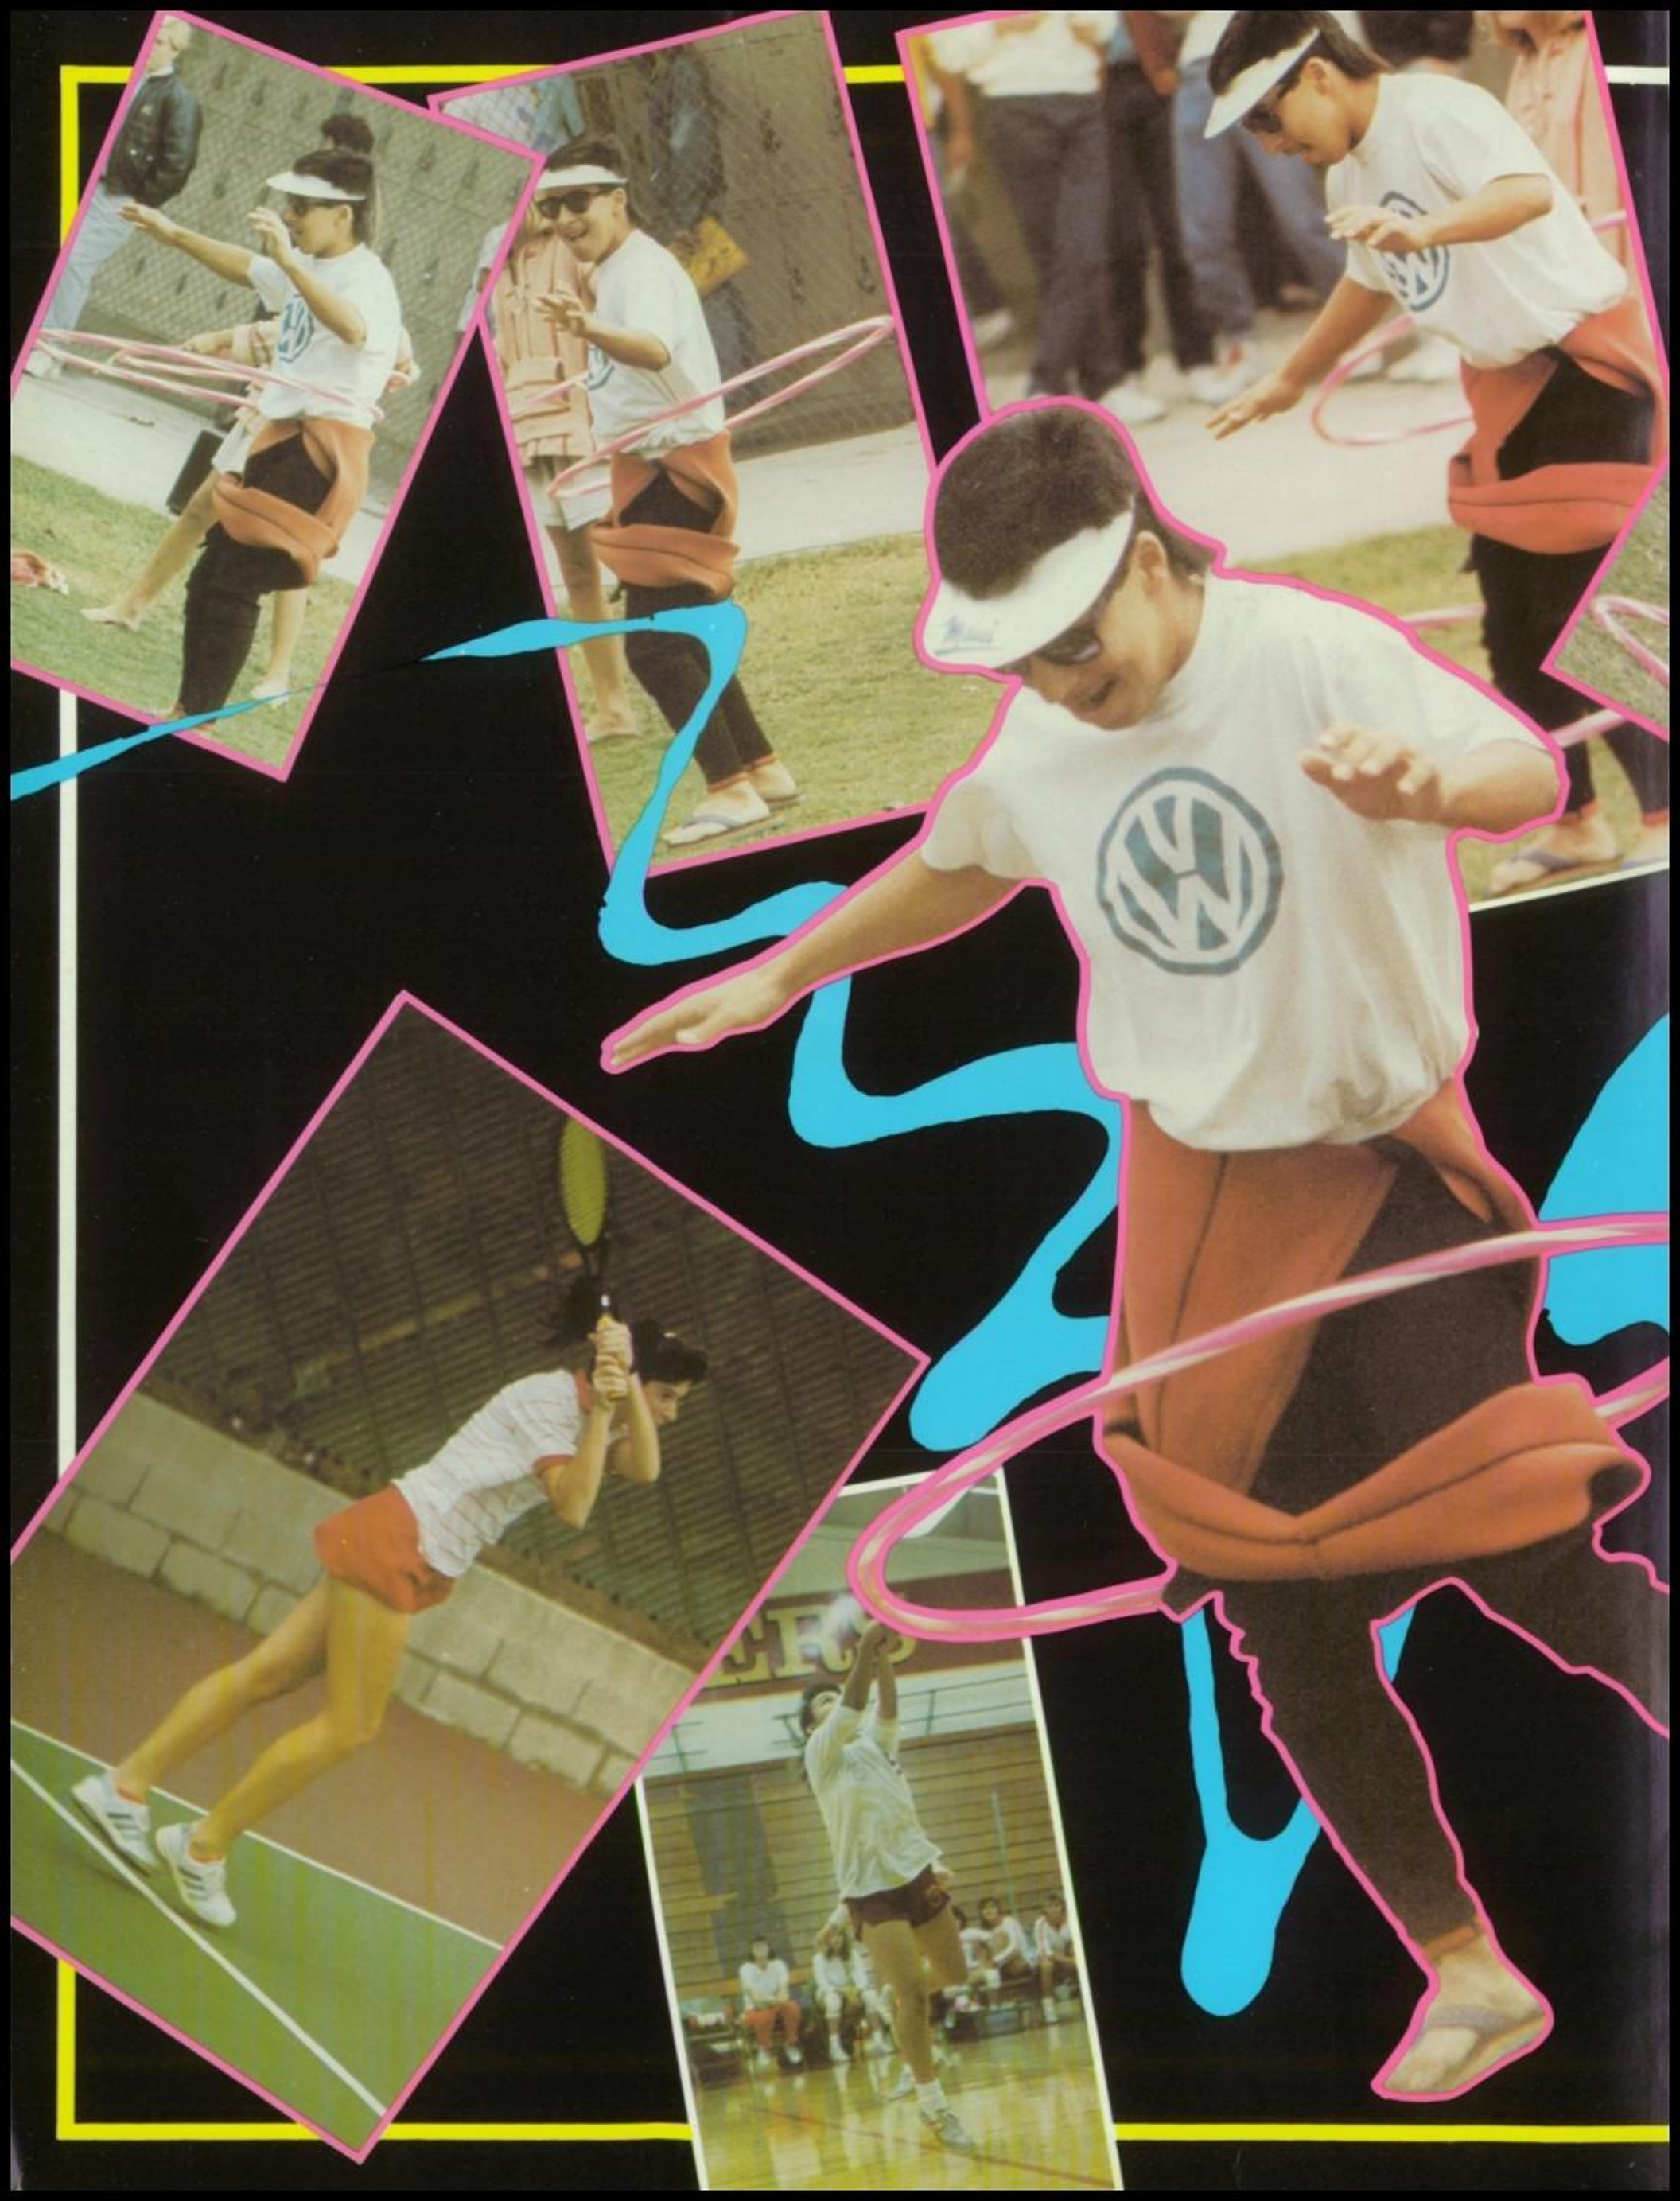

Monday finally came and we officially started our week of spirit with dark rain clouds and all. Our "California Court" was announced: Alma Alvarez, Melissa Bowers, Kim Foster, Renee McCall, Shellie McCall, Cynthia Rosenthal and Patty Tokahuta by skits put on in which various California Dreams were answered: a trip to Disneyland, a day at the beach, becoming a movie star, etc. Although a little foul weather prevented the planned activities at lunch Monday and left a few people wondering why it wasn't rainboots, slickers, and umbrella day instead of hightops, shades and visor day. We eagerly looked forward to our next adventure in CHS dreamland. Tuesday was Beach day. There were a few souls who dared to be different and dig out the zinc oxide for their noses and wearing swim trunks and beachtowels. For Beach day the snack activity of hulahooping discovered a new ultimate beach dude at CHS — Robert Rivera surprised us all with his newly discovered talent as a master hula-er. He dazzled on-lookers as he out-hooped his opponents hooping for a whopping minute and 10 seconds! Wednesday brought us Tourist day. The snack activity surprised us with football team members Mark McCorkel, Matt Forrester, Keith Kelley, Ruben Ayala and Curtis Mays outscouting everyone in the centipede crawl, a unique way of beating California traffic. The Great Vacation obstacle course was the lunch activity for tourist day. Mark McCorkel completed the course on a tricycle drinking a can of coke in a mere 45 seconds, with no burp! Our court was also auctioned off with Alma Alvarez selling as a blue light special for thirty dollars. Hollywood day was on Thursday. The snack activity was the dress and then undress yourself relay with the Juniors winning, only because they cheated. Lunch brought us the pie throw with spectators attacking the court with whipped cream. Yuck! A pep rally ended a fun filled week with everyone waiting enthusiastically for our Homecoming Parade.

The business department helped students explore skills pertaining to an office situation. It also prepared them for the work force they were to experience after graduation. Up-to-date computers and typewriters really prepared a student to "step right into" their profession. With classes such as typing, shorthand, record keeping, accounting, and computers, the business department is a vital aid to students who want to enter a job right after graduation. Photo 1. STATUS SYMBOL: The theme for the S.A.D.D. organization's campaign and week long effort to impress the student body with the end result of drugs and driving drunk. After tying red ribbons on the posts and pillars of the quad students were presented with a snack assembly and bright yellow balloons. Friday red ribbons were lost in the horror and comedy of Halloween as both students and faculty sorta forgot their reality and lived out a little fantasy in costume. We all have difficulties in some areas, be it English, or math, maybe in visual or auditory perception. At Corona High we have a program that helps us with these problems by offering a chance to work with teachers, such as Mrs. Brown, on a one to one basis. This allows for personal and developed learning. Mrs. Rodenbucher, an English and reading teacher, describes it as . . . "a breakdown of the "regular" curriculum." That allows students to work at their own pace. What do Mrs. Rodenbucher's students like about school? Well — David Villoni, sophomore, likes "the pizza and coke at lunch" while Salvé Bedolla says, "you can learn job skills here and actually practice them." James May thought his "teachers are nice, they help you a lot." and Eric Rodriguez enjoyed all the activities but especially "the off campus lunch idea." Photo 1. Lisa Simpson 2. Foreign Language, being a requirement for many colleges, exposed more and more students to a new language. At CHS, Spanish, French, German, and even English as a foreign language, were offered. These courses did more than fulfill graduation and college entrance requirements, they gave the students the opportunity to receive insight, knowledge, and the ability to communicate with another culture. All of the teachers had a different and interesting style for teaching. Sra. Pierce had her Spanish students say "noticias" or current events everyday to help them become more fluent in speaking the language. She had a real interest in what they had to say. Mr. Edwards Van Muyen used a type of contest where the students were rewarded when they were the first to reply with the correct French word. He also used his creativity in his German classes. Mrs. Davila often used a bingo game with cards that had the English translation of a Spanish word to help students learn a new phrase and increase their vocabulary. Mrs. Gallardo, like Sra Pierce and Mr. Edwards Van Muyen, spoke only her language, Spanish, during class making it a very interesting year for everyone! Photo 1. Mrs. Davila 2. DRIVER'S ED.

State Requirements was just that, required. Mandated by the state for graduation, and required by the DMV to get that long awaited driver's license. Students anxiously awaited for a turn behind the wheel. There is a certain sense of freedom that most sophomores finally feel when they can leave dad shuddering in the driveway wondering if his car will be back in one piece.

CROSS COUNTRY

Newton's pups were a team of surprises, raw talent, and the seasoned few, the later adding strength and encouragement to the freshmen. Gus Arce, Jaime Barnes, Julie Clarke, and Flynn Behrens proved to be strong both on the home course and at regional invitationals. On a varied Colton course the Panthers started their invitational season with seven receiving medals — Arce, Pedro Nava, Eric Starks, Behrens, Beth Glassick, Clarke, and Barnes. At Laguna Hills Arce took third with a time of 15:34, while Barnes took fourth with a 19:05 time in the girl's varsity run. In addition Derek Nino, Nava, Glassick and Clarke medaled in their respective races over the Orange county hill country. Both Barnes and Arce ran outstanding races at Mt. Sac College placing third and second respectively. League competition opened on our home course with the girls coming out with blazing Nikes as they easily defeated Hemet and North. Barnes set a new course record with a time of 22:29 in the Varsity girls run. She was followed by Behrens at second and Clarke running a close fourth. The boy's Varsity defeated North 21-38 with good performances by Arce, Nava and Starks, but were overrun by league leading Hemet. The boys JVs were really up for the competition; beating booth teams. Tad Lister captured first, followed by Mike Purchase and good runs by Joe Henderson and Bryant Lister. In the rugged back hills of Yucaipa; Nava, Barnes, Clarke, Behrens, Nino, and Arce were joined by Luke Hernandez and Ryan Lindsey in the medal brackets. The boys JV, pushed in their run by Coach Komrosky beat Arlington 16-39 on their home course but were unable to catch Perris with strong efforts by Hernandez, Purchase and Joe Henderson. The girls continued their strong pace with Barnes, Clarke and Behrens filling the top three positions. The gentlemen were paced by Arce and Nava in their win over Arlington with Bill Taylor, in his first year with cross country, having an excellent outing. At the Norco tri-meet the boys and girls team both beat Ramona. Arce took first for the boys, followed by Nava at second. Lister, Nino, and Taylor pleased Newton with their performances. For the girls Barnes, with a second place finish, was followed by Behrens, Clarke, Glassick, and Rhonda Wood, all having good times for the Norco course. Corona ended the season with the girls finishing second in league standings with a record of 6-1, while the boy's Varsity finished with a record of 3-4 and a fourth in league standings. At league finals Arce ran an outstanding course with a first place finish with Nava placing seventh in the medal running. Jamie Barnes ran to a second place finish, while both Behrens and Clarke ran strong races for fifth and seventh. For seniors Arce and Clarke their high school careers ended with disappointment at CIF prelims; the excitement and expectation was there, but the Panthers just missed final competition by fractions of seconds. At the December awards night, hosted by the Rotary, Newton praised his 'litter of pups' for their performance and continued dedication to the sport. (This of course was done without humor and always with a straight face). Gus Arce and Jamie Barnes were awarded the Most Valuable honors, while Bill Taylor and Tinker Borgen received Most Improved trophies. Pedro Nava and Flynn Behrens received the coveted Coaches Awards from Newton and Derek Nino and Rhonda Wood were elected Most Inspirational by their teammates. Photo 1. The Corona High Volleyball team won the 1987 Ivy League title! The girls finished the season with a 13-1 impressive league record, and an 18-3 overall record. Seniors Shellie McCall, Renee McCall, and Cheri Lara led the Panthers into the CIF playoffs. Although the team played a tough, competitive match, they were defeated in five games in the first round by St. Lucy's. Numerous school records were set during this surprising season. Although the Panthers were supposed to be in a rebuilding year after graduating four starters last year, the girls came out tough, aggressive, and determined to win! And win they did! Shellie McCall was selected Most Valuable Player by her teammates and was awarded the Bill Foster Memorial Award for Most Outstanding Player. She set new team records in kills, dinks, and saves. Renee McCall was awarded the Coaches' Award for her leadership skills and outstanding contributions to the team. In addition, she set new school records in points scored, serves, attempted serves and blocks. Junior Cindy Rice was selected Most Improved Player in her first season of volleyball. The Panther's mighty offense was led by Renee McCall's 292 points. Others making the 100-Point Club were Cheri Lara, Wendy Ball, and Shellie McCall. Cheri set a new school record in serving percentage with a 98 per cent average. Shellie, Renee, and Cheri were named to the All-Ivy League First Team, while Shelly Gorder and Cindy Rice were named to the All-Ivy League Second Team. Wendy Ball was selected as Honorable Mention, while Shellie McCall was honored with Most Valuable Player in the Ivy League. The Panthers had a well-balanced game with Senior Cheri Lara and Junior Cindy Rice setting the offensive pace. Leading the team in net play were Shellie McCall, Renee McCall, Rochelle Reese, Shelly Gorder, and Norma Aleman. The defense surely one of the leagues strongest this year was led by Jennifer Knoll, JoDee Smith, and Lisa Cervantes. Outstanding servers include Wendy Ball, Tracey Ferguson, and Lori Chun. The Panthers lived up to the team motto by showing Pride, Integrity, Guts, and Spirit (P.I.G.S.). This was an exciting year for the JV team! Coach Courtney Doolittle worked hours teaching young players like Stephanie Hood, Carolyn Salgado, Jenna Gretsch, and Erica Shephardson the skills of passing the ball well. Developing into very fine setters on the JVs were Becky Ball and Vernie Guerrero. Leading the attack was Nina Long, Jody McGraw, Teen McVeigh, and Lori McConahay. Junior Vernie Guerrero was selected Most Valuable Player by her teammates, while Nina Long was voted the Most Improved Player. The Panther JV squad proved to be the MOST IMPROVED unit in the Ivy League and had their best record in several years, 9-4. These outstanding young athletes will keep Corona's volleyball program strong in the coming years. Corona's Volleyball Future Continues to Shine! Photo 1. VOLLEYBALL!

1987 was an exciting year for the Girl's Tennis Team. It was the first year in the history of CHS that the Girl's team were league champions. The girls were able to defeat Palm Springs twice this year in two very close matches. Both matches were tied and had to be determined by the total games and the Panthers came through. In the first round against Palm Springs Dawn Bylsma played outstanding matches, bringing in three points for the Panthers. It came down to the last match where Katherine Sathornkich did an excellent job barely losing in a tie breaker, but with her six games we tied the score. Julie Ciano brought in two of her possible three points as did Kari Pucci and Amy DiPaolo in doubles. In the second round of play, with Palm Spring's unruly behavior, Ciano brought in all three points while Sathornkich and DiPaolo brought in two in doubles. The upset of the day came when Naoko Nishimura and Becky Alba beat the undefeated number 1 doubles team of Palm Springs to tie the score at 9-9. Kari Pucci also did a great job bringing in two in singles play. After losing to Hemet in the first round, the Panthers had to beat them to become Co-Ivy League Champions, and beat them they did! The girls were really up for this match after beating Indio 11-7. Indio had already beaten Hemet and the girls knew it. They were ready to do battle! This time our doubles came through, after losing in the first round against the Bulldogs. Ciano scored two in singles, while Debbie Penter teamed with Sathornkich in doubles for two. In addition Beth Penter and Kari Pucci pulled in three with Beth's steady play and Kari's aggressiveness. Alba and Jaylene Fleming also were up for the day beating the number three doubles combination in a close match, 6-4. Overall each and every player gave it their all and the team had a great day, even with the weather. This was also a great day for the JV's as Holly Carter brought in the ninth point to beat Hemet 5-4. The first round of CIF play-offs was an exciting match for Corona. The Panthers were tied with Los Alamitos for two rounds and pulled through in the third round to win with a score of 10-8. The second round of CIF, Corona came up against Calabasas and lost 7-11 in another tight match. But this did not end Corona's CIF competition, Ciano and Pucci, as the Ivy League doubles champs, would advance through the first round, but facing the number one team in CIF, they lost out in the second round in a close tight match. Coach Osterkamp awarded the following at season's end: Most Valuable Varsity Doubles — Katherine Sathornkich and Kari Pucci; Varsity Singles Most Valuable — Julie Ciano; Most Spirited Varsity — Emily Longbone; Most Inspirational Varsity — Dawn Bylsma; Most Improved Varsity — Amy DiPaolo; Most Valuable JV — Michelle Brew. WADE '89

The 1987 Varsity Football team, under the direction of head Coach Munson went into their season with high hopes. The highlight of the season was the contest against Ramona. The Panthers led the Rams 27-16 midway in the fourth quarter, only to lose in the last minutes of play 30-27. Scott Longerbone led Corona to four straight touchdowns to take the lead; completing 13 of 18 passes for 174 yards. He also scored on a 14 yards third quarter run. Tony Conrad caught nine Longerbone passes for 123 yards. Against Norco, the Panthers' Mark McCall completed 5 of 10 passes for 64 yards and directed the Panthers to Corona's only score, with two minutes remaining in the third quarter. The score came, three plays after McCall hit Conrad for 22 yards, with Sean Cotto finding daylight in the Norco defense; tying the score 7-7 and forcing the game into a heartbreaking overtime. In overtime, Norco proved to be too much, with the final tally 13-7 — Norco. Against Perris the Panthers dominated play throughout the first half only to lose another in the last quarter, this time by a mere one point; and with the disappointment, the enthusiasm and season began to fade. The Junior Varsity, coached by Coach Holden, Bloom, and Ball, finished the season in second place in the league; and won 8 out of 10 (overall). At the Lion's

Club Annual Banquet, awards were given to: Scott Longerbone — Player of the Year; Robert Rivera — Defensive Back; Keith Kelly — Defensive Lineman; Sean Cotto — Offensive Back; Bryan Anderson — Offensive Lineman; Tony Conrad — Most Improved; Felix Larez — Coaches' Award; Mark McCorkell — Mr. Hustle; Mike Taylor — Most Inspirational; Alex Duran — Weightlifter of the Year; with Longerbone and Taylor winning captain honors to complete the varsity awards. JV Awards went as follows: Corey Godfrey — Most Improved; Mike Shockley — Most Valuable; Steve Sheridan — Coaches' Award; and Gary Hurdler — Captain. Conrad, McCall, Mike Van DerWeerd, Jim Griffin, and Anderson were second team All-Ivy League selections, while Keith Kelly, Taylor, and Rivera received Honorable Mentions. Photo 1. The Fall Production was entitled "Set the Scenes" and it included an ensemble of six different scenes from Grease, The Miracle Worker, The Story of Helen Keller, The Diary of Anne Frank, Deathtrap, Pygmalion, and My Fair Lady. Each scene averaged five to ten minutes and they worked two hours a day for two months in preparation. The cast played for a three nights and received standing ovations. Photo 1. Before the beginning of the season, the winter sports teams had a chance to test their skills and talents. The Wrestling team went to three consecutive tournaments to let their individual stars shine. At the Tourney in Rubidoux, Corona placed third overall with first place medals going to John Parra and Keith Kelley, and second place went to Bill Taylor. The Panthers then went on to the Rim Tournament where again Keith Kelley led them into second place overall, along with Billy Lapham who also received top honors. To top it off, the Corona wrestlers were cordially invited to compete in the Indio Tournament, where Keith Kelley, Bill Taylor, and Jim Bailey wrapped up first, second, and third place medals. The awesome Girl's Basketball team made a fine showing at their Tourney at Eisenhower. Losing a close match against the Eisenhower team, Tonya Jones, along with Liz Janes and Holly Keaton bounded and rebounded their way to beat San Bernadino 46-34. The Hoopsters then went on to edge out San Gorgonio, but then lost some steam in a close match against Beaumont, taking home an overall placement of third consolation. Coach Robles and the Boy's Basketball team had a chance to test their strength and endurance during their winter tourneys as well. At the Moreno Valley tournament, Corona's dribblers were pronounced as consolation champs, with Rick Zelazowski making the All Tournament team. After losing some ground at the Irvine Tournament, the Panthers went two for two at the Raincross Tourney, with Rick Zelazowski and John Child named outstanding players throughout. The Girl's Soccer team placed third at their Tourney at North, ripping past Fontana and Yucipa with Alison Thompson and Rochelle Reese and their strong offensive line-up. At the Garey Tournament, the kickers danced around Arlington with a 5-0 win with Alison Thompson, Rochelle Reese and Stephanie Hood as lead scorers. But the Girl's lost some momentum and to Hemet, putting them in third place overall. With their excellent showing at the Rubidoux Tournament. Jim Anderson, Greg Hood and Robert Rivera led the boys soccer team through two strong wins over Hesperia and Victor Valley. But the team's two disappointing losses to Riverside Poly and Burroughs placed them sixth overall, with Jim Anderson making the All Tournament team. CHEER

With the holiday vacation only days and then hours away the campus filled with the spirit of the season. Orientation rooms and the individual classes competed in a drive to collect toys for needy children and help fill area food baskets. In addition the ASB joined forces with an area blood bank to collect pints of the valuable red stuff. In the annual event CHS managed to edge out Norco in total amounts collected. On a lighter side

Mrs. Pierces' students caroled the halls with Spanish carols, ROP students prepared a luncheon menu of holiday foods and many rooms celebrated, or at least took a lighter look at their studies. From the opening sounds of 'Christmas Joy' to the fading notes of 'Bless and Keep You,' the Music Pavilion was filled with the music of the holiday season. The brisk evening outside was quickly forgotten by the large audience as the concert band performed the traditional God Rest You Merry Gentlemen and were delighted by the contemporary arrangement performed by the Jazz Band with Andy Nathan and Adrienne Weatherford performing solos. The Concert choir under the direction of Mr. Smith with Mr. DeRosa, accompanist, were outstanding in their presentations. The evening took a light turn as Mike McGee introduced the Duke of Earl to the program. The Madrigal singers closed the evening with the quality and style that audience have become accustomed to, and expect. Photo 1. Dorothy Diess 2. Brent Glassick, Andy Nathan, Don Goldberg. 3. WINTER FORMAL

'Twas the 19th of December and all through the gym, the music was rockin' and the lights were dimmed . . . and that's how the Winter Formal of 1987 went. Girls in their satin, or velvet, (black seemed to be the most popular) and guys in their tuxs, all came out with their special someone to dance the night away. Most of us only stayed a few minutes to pose for pictures that Mom insisted we get, but those who stayed got to see Mr. Komrosky play Santa and hand out door prizes to lucky winners. Greg DeRuyter, who would have won a prize, but he didn't arrive until 11 pm. When the clock struck twelve, and the remaining couples rode away into the moonlight. The magic of the evening faded into the night, back in the gym, not a creature was stirring, not even a teacher. Photo 1. Michellene,

So how'd you like your years here at CHS? You must be thrilled to be graduating, right? Well good luck on your future. I hope it turns out like you want it to. In the meantime have a super cool summer at the beach.

Strange, when we met eyes lacked feelings on the same channel
hate or love
just add water
Watch it grow
reflections in a mirror
both regret and hope
head on collision
Merge or break
Independence;
brings complete dependence
fear of suffocation
No claims allowed unspoken thoughts, deeper than words
A cautious smile
piercing eyes
searching looks Same heart breakings
unquestionable understanding
Complete acceptance
Unintentional invasion was the sacrifice undesirable friendship is the reward.

Life In An Eggshell

Pressure hurts my isolation.
Elements add to my frustration
Tension mounts my insides heat
Until the pressure is too hard to beat.
But, I can have fun I am not too tough.
I guess you could say my sunny side's up.
When I become beyond reproach
I usually get caught; egg turns? poached
A simple life? Not for me.
Sometimes life's not all it's cracked up to be.

TRANSPARENT PEOPLE

You're pretty on the outside, but ugly within.
 Most people see your beauty, but I can see your sin.
 You talk about other people who aren't there to speak in defense.
 It's your foolish insecurity that created this nonsense.
 You tell lies about others, who don't even talk to you.
 But you can't fool me, you're transparent, and I can see through you.

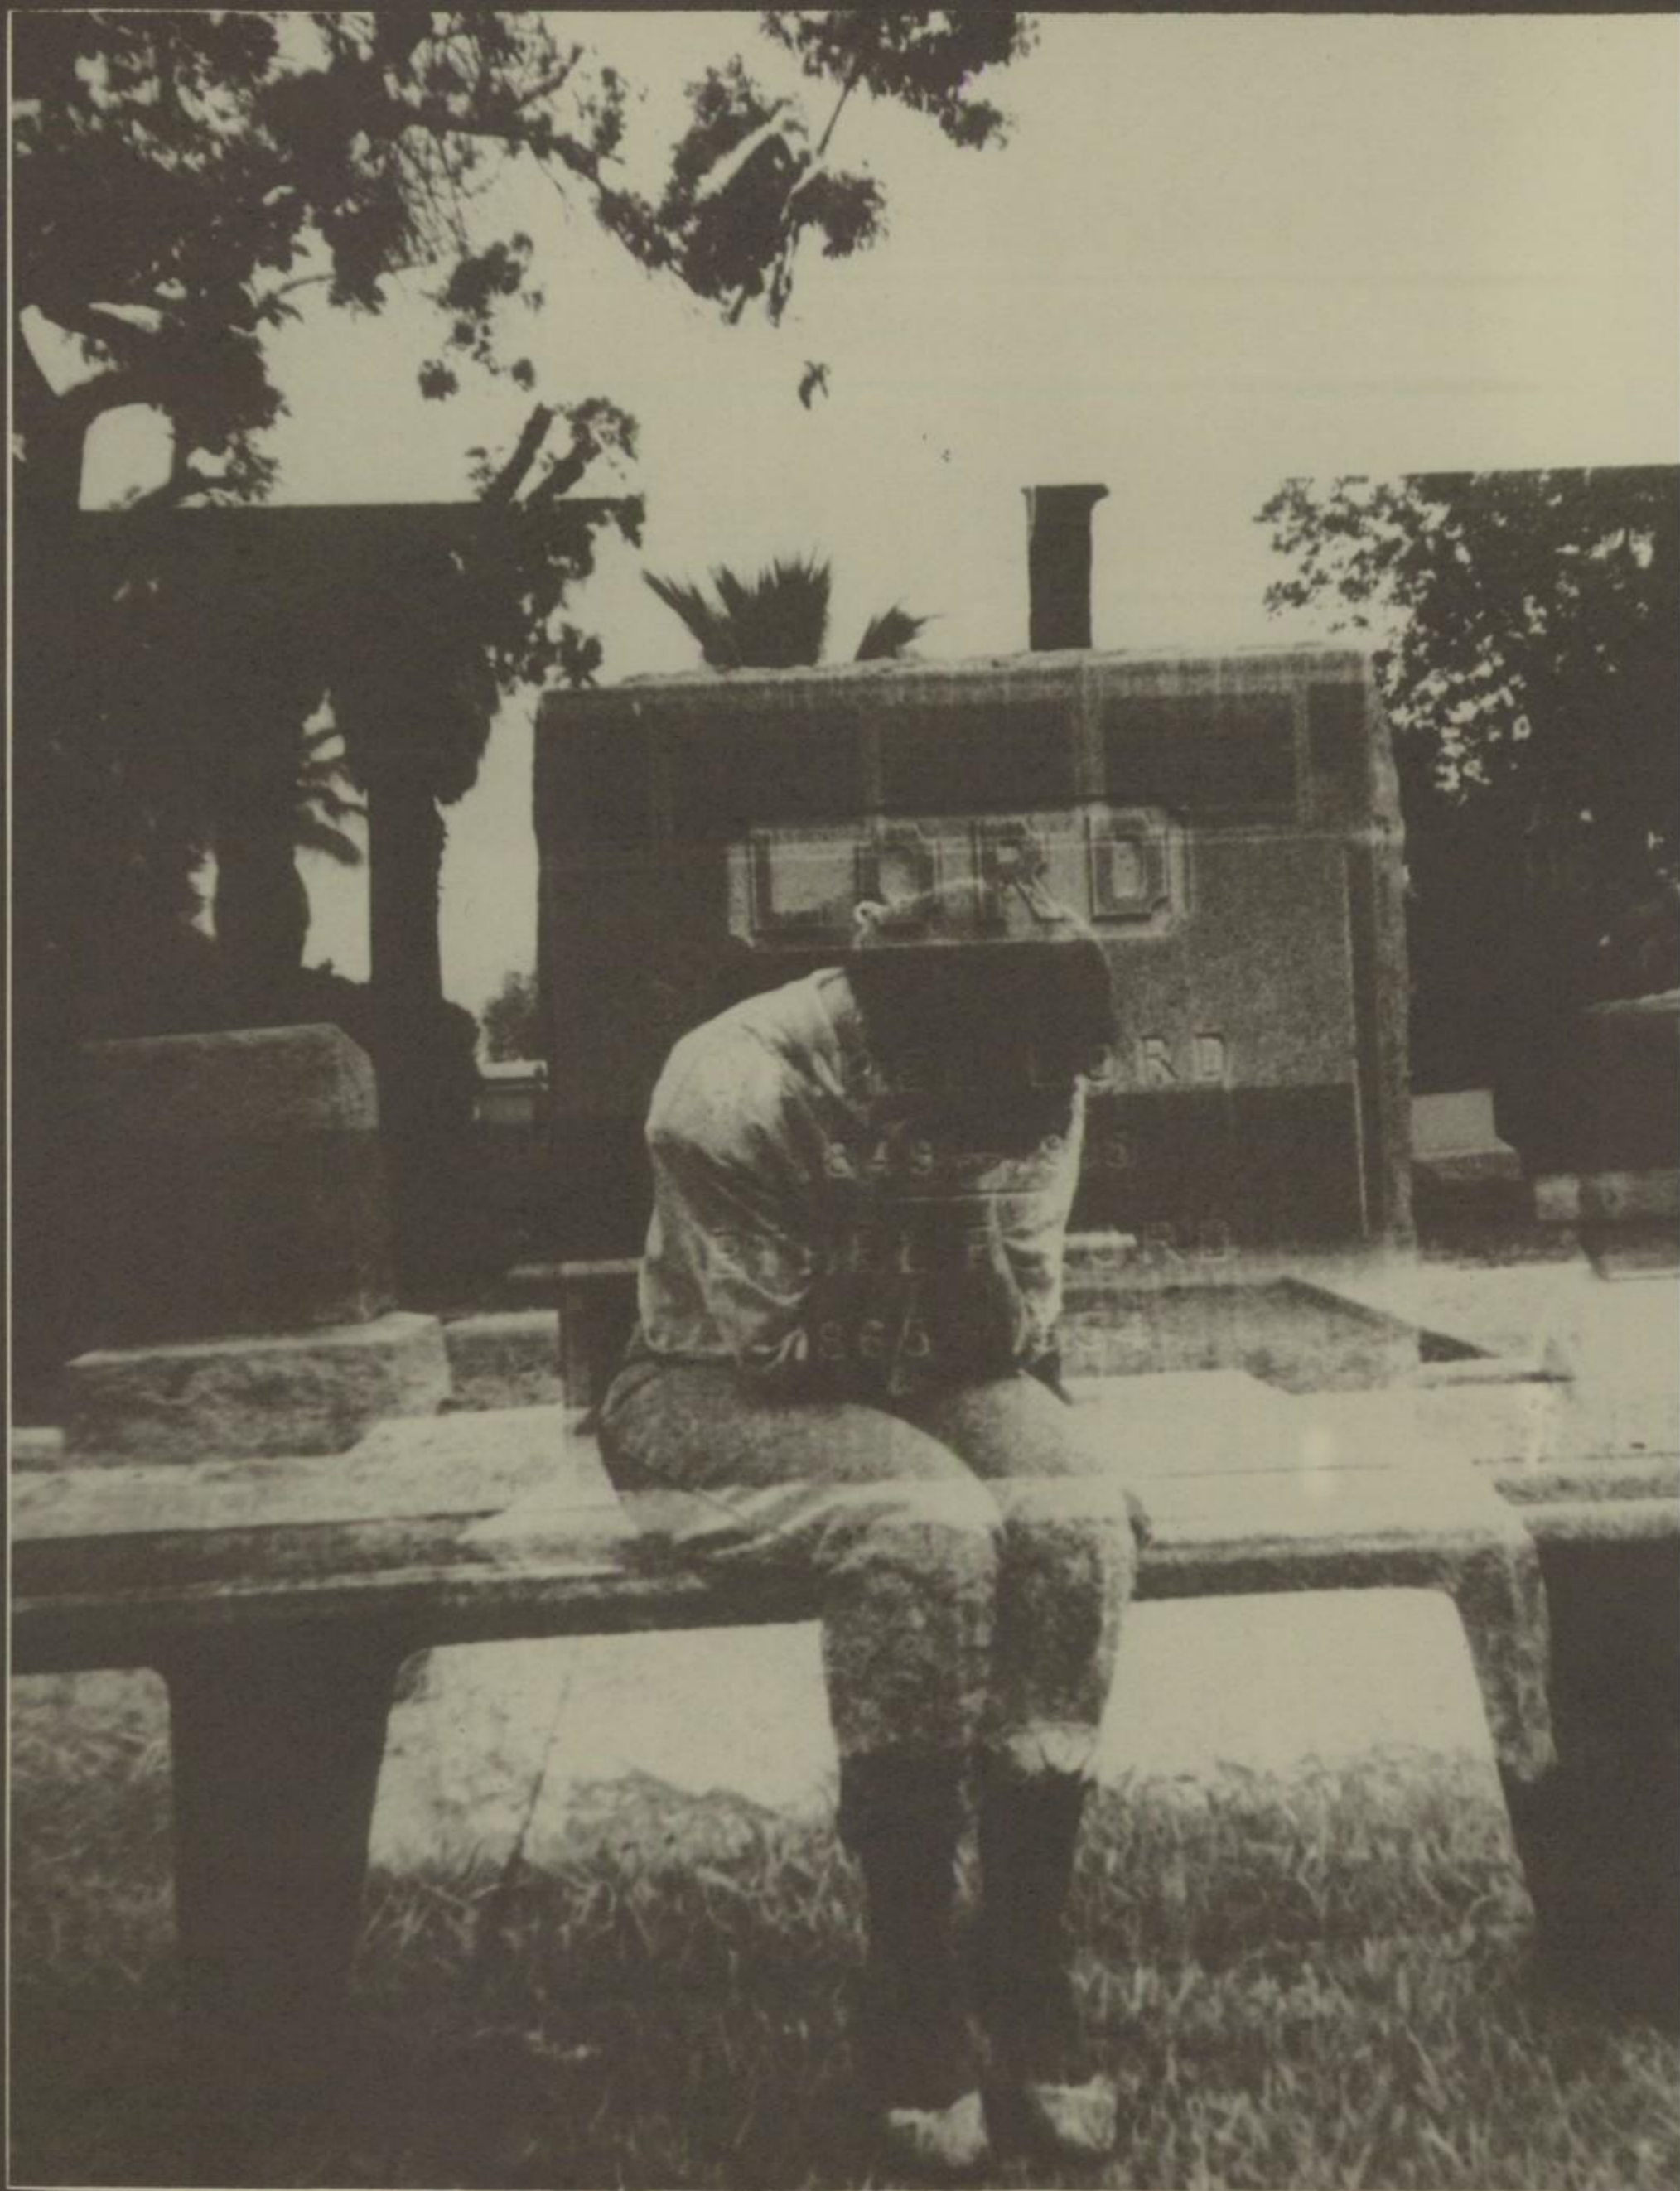

You think that you're so perfect,
 with your cars, pretty clothes and friends.
 But what you don't realize, is that your means never justifies the end.
 Sure, I've made my mistakes, and hurt some people too.
 But you won't stop your attack on me until I'm gone.
 Will you?

I'm tired of having to defend myself for things I didn't do.
 I guess I make an easy scapegoat,
 because my feelings mean nothing to you.
 You're an assassin of the mind, you've poisoned my friends too.
 Eventually they'll realize I was right,
 when they can see through you, too.

CRYSTAL TEARS

In your arms I start to cry
wings of sadness begin to fly
Cries of Sorrow in the night
Depression fills the shining Light
a dimension filled with endless mirrors letting go oncoming tears . . .

Captured In dreams and lost time remembering when you were mine
you broke the chains to be free fading back to a Memory Darkness falls from the skies
Painful tears fall from my eyes . . .

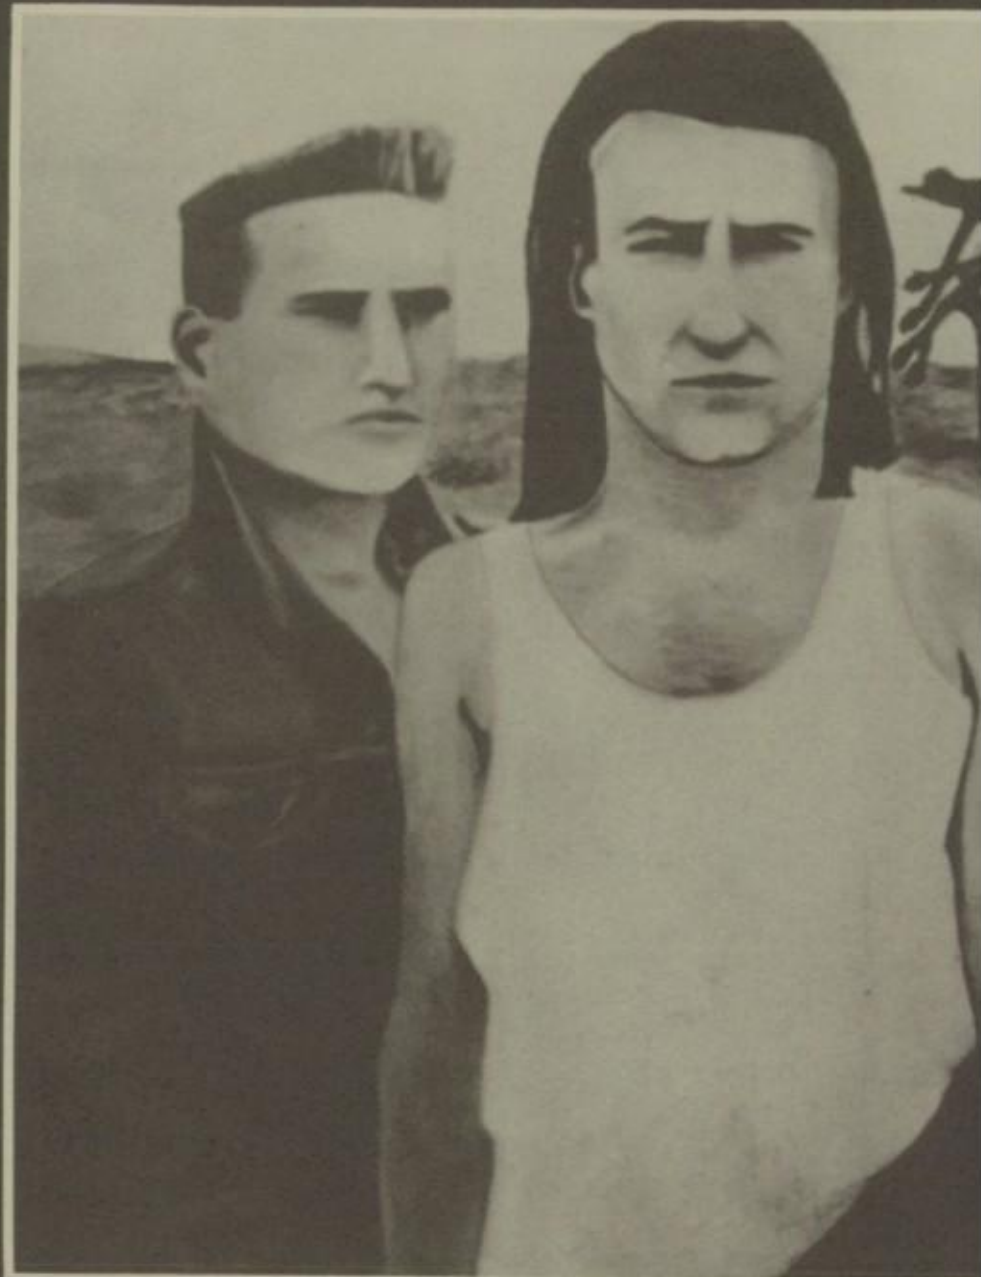

Our love has died, my eyes have cried
you broke my heart, are you Satisfied?
Well now its over I guess we are through but I still say "I love You"
CRYSTAL TEARS from glossy eyes
The love of Jesus never dies . . .
OH my Crystal tears . . .

The whistle blew, people listened;
The farmer's sweat in the sun glistened.
People of Corona knew it was noon,
Their families would be home soon.
Daily jobs were scheduled with,
The old tin whistle atop Sunkist.
Every time the whistle blew
It told a story of the life it knew.
Once shiny and bright and proud to show,
It rusted as it watched Corona grow.
It saw a town grow and evolve.
The farming town began to dissolve.
Once young like Corona, together they aged.
Corona, now thriving. The whistle? decayed

“ . . . it's all of me . . . everything, to draw,

to dance . . . I can perform; be anything!"

"In various novels, authors tell the story of old, rich men looking for someone to inherit their wealth. Often, the search is a long one, for the rich man must look for someone who will take good care of the inheritance. The benefactor wants someone who will preserve his heritage and pass it on to posterity" . . .

"We owe it to our ancestors to preserve entirely those rights, which they have given to us to protect — We owe it to our children not to allow their dearest inheritance to be destroyed" . . .

" . . . We come then to the question of whether the youth of this country will squander their inheritance or not. If we squander it, it will be lost forever. However, if we preserve our heritage with the care it deserves, our liberty will be something grand to pass on to future generations. America's liberty will be their inheritance, as it was ours. Liberty is an inheritance with inestimable value, the most valuable heritage anyone will ever possess."

Josh Burgess, regional winner in the VFW speech contest; won a trip to Sacramento, where he met the governor. His creative talent lies in his ability to speak, and to express his thoughts through writing.

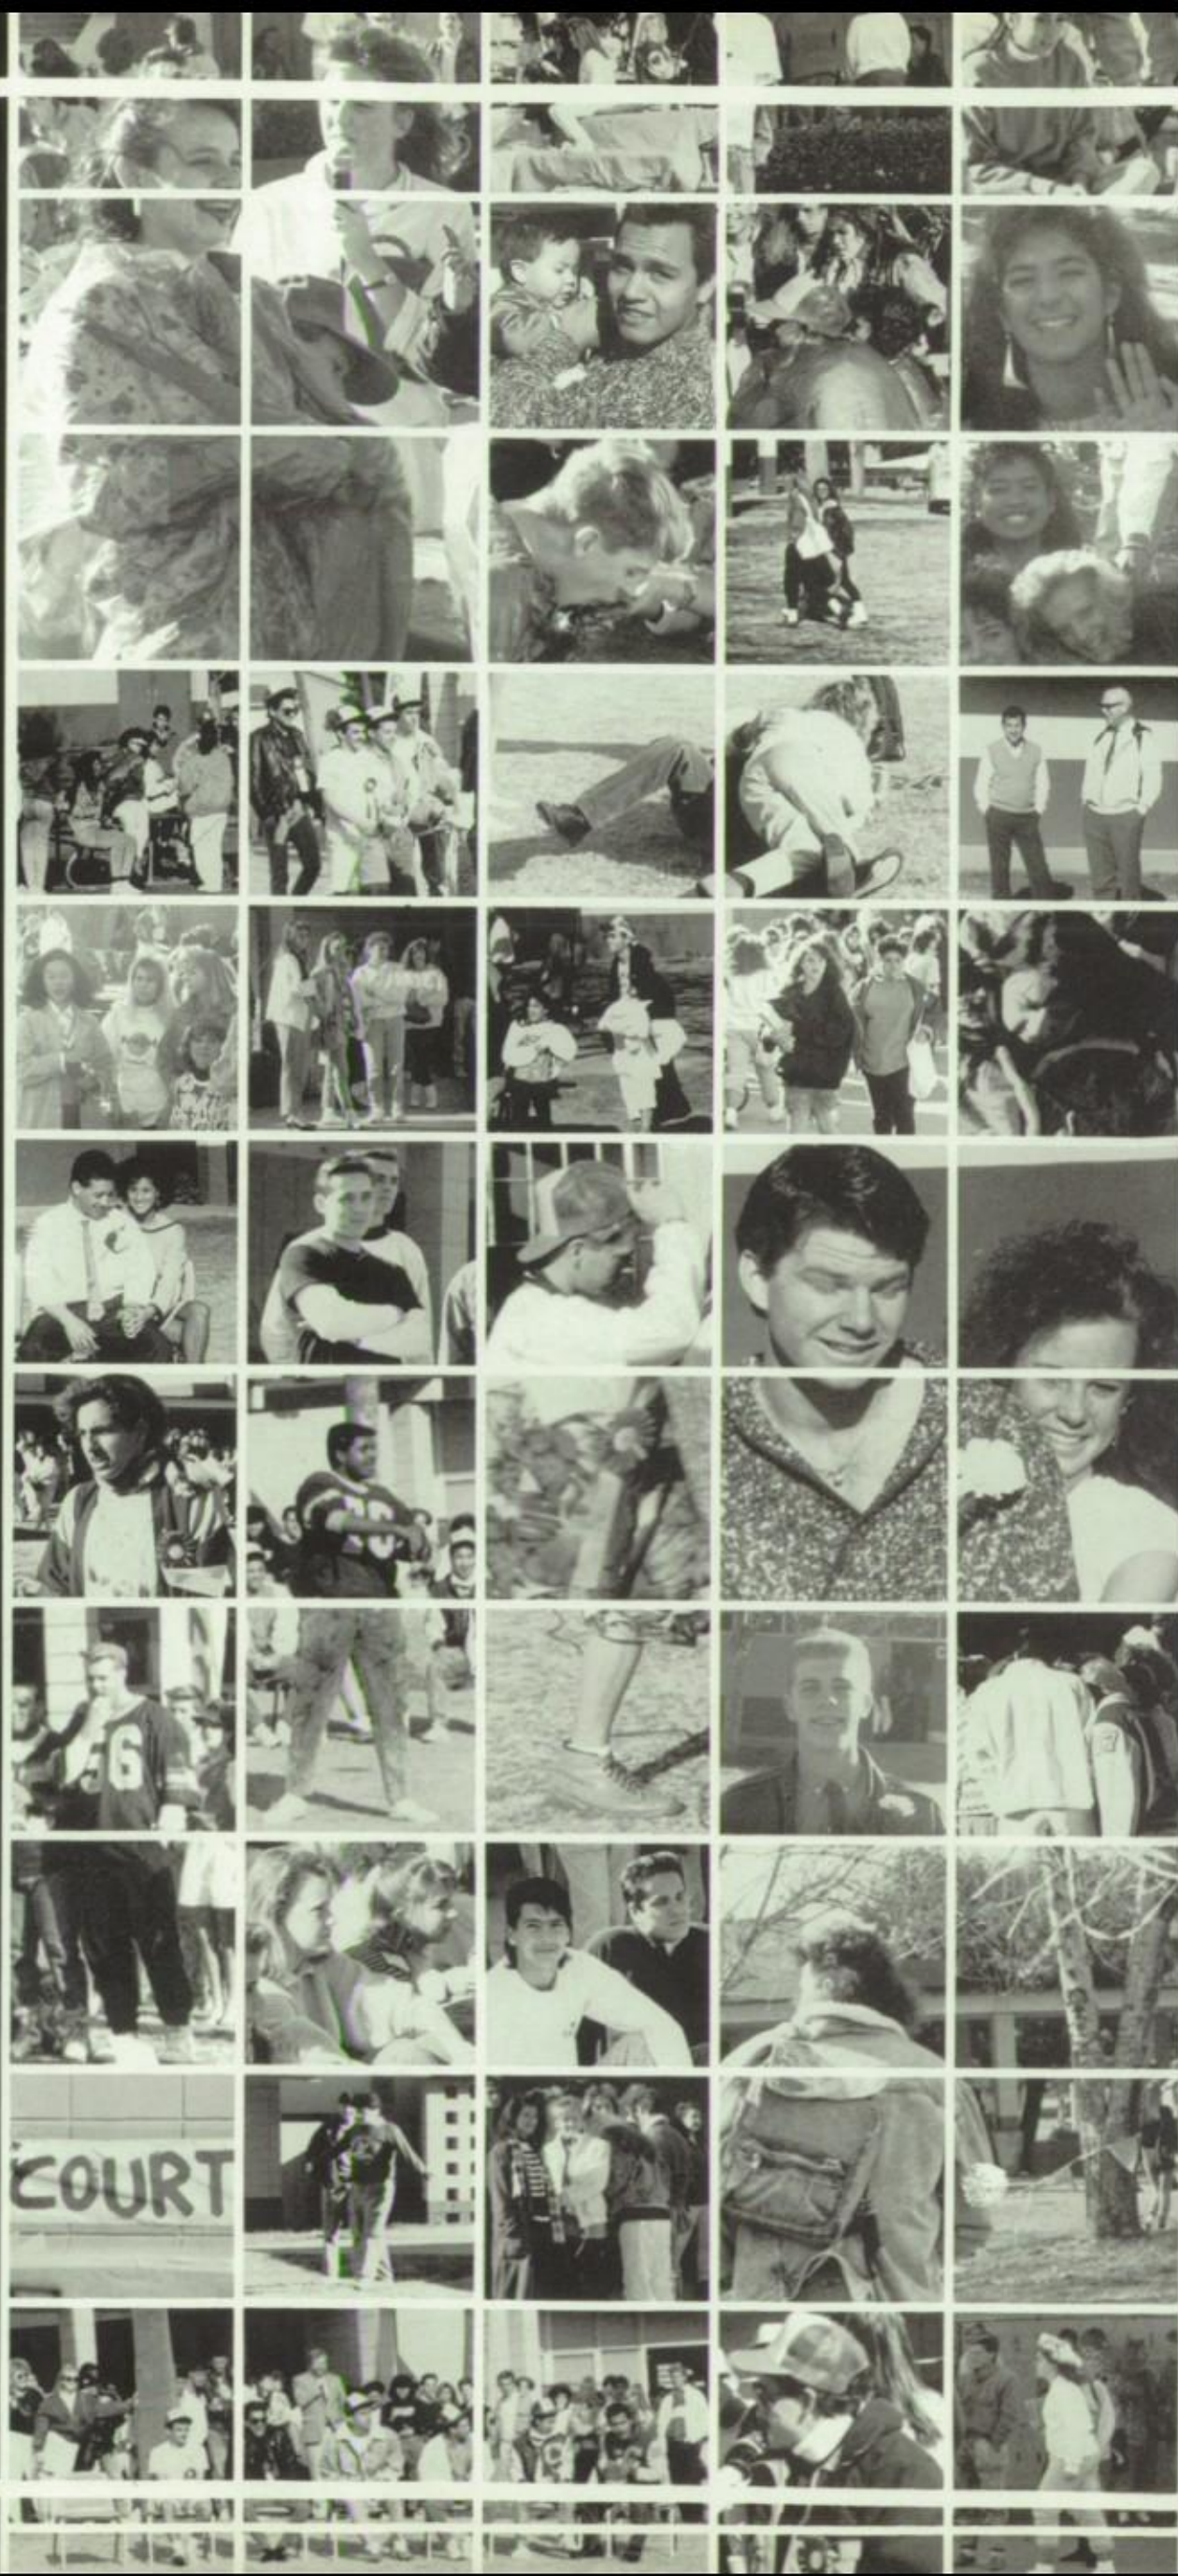

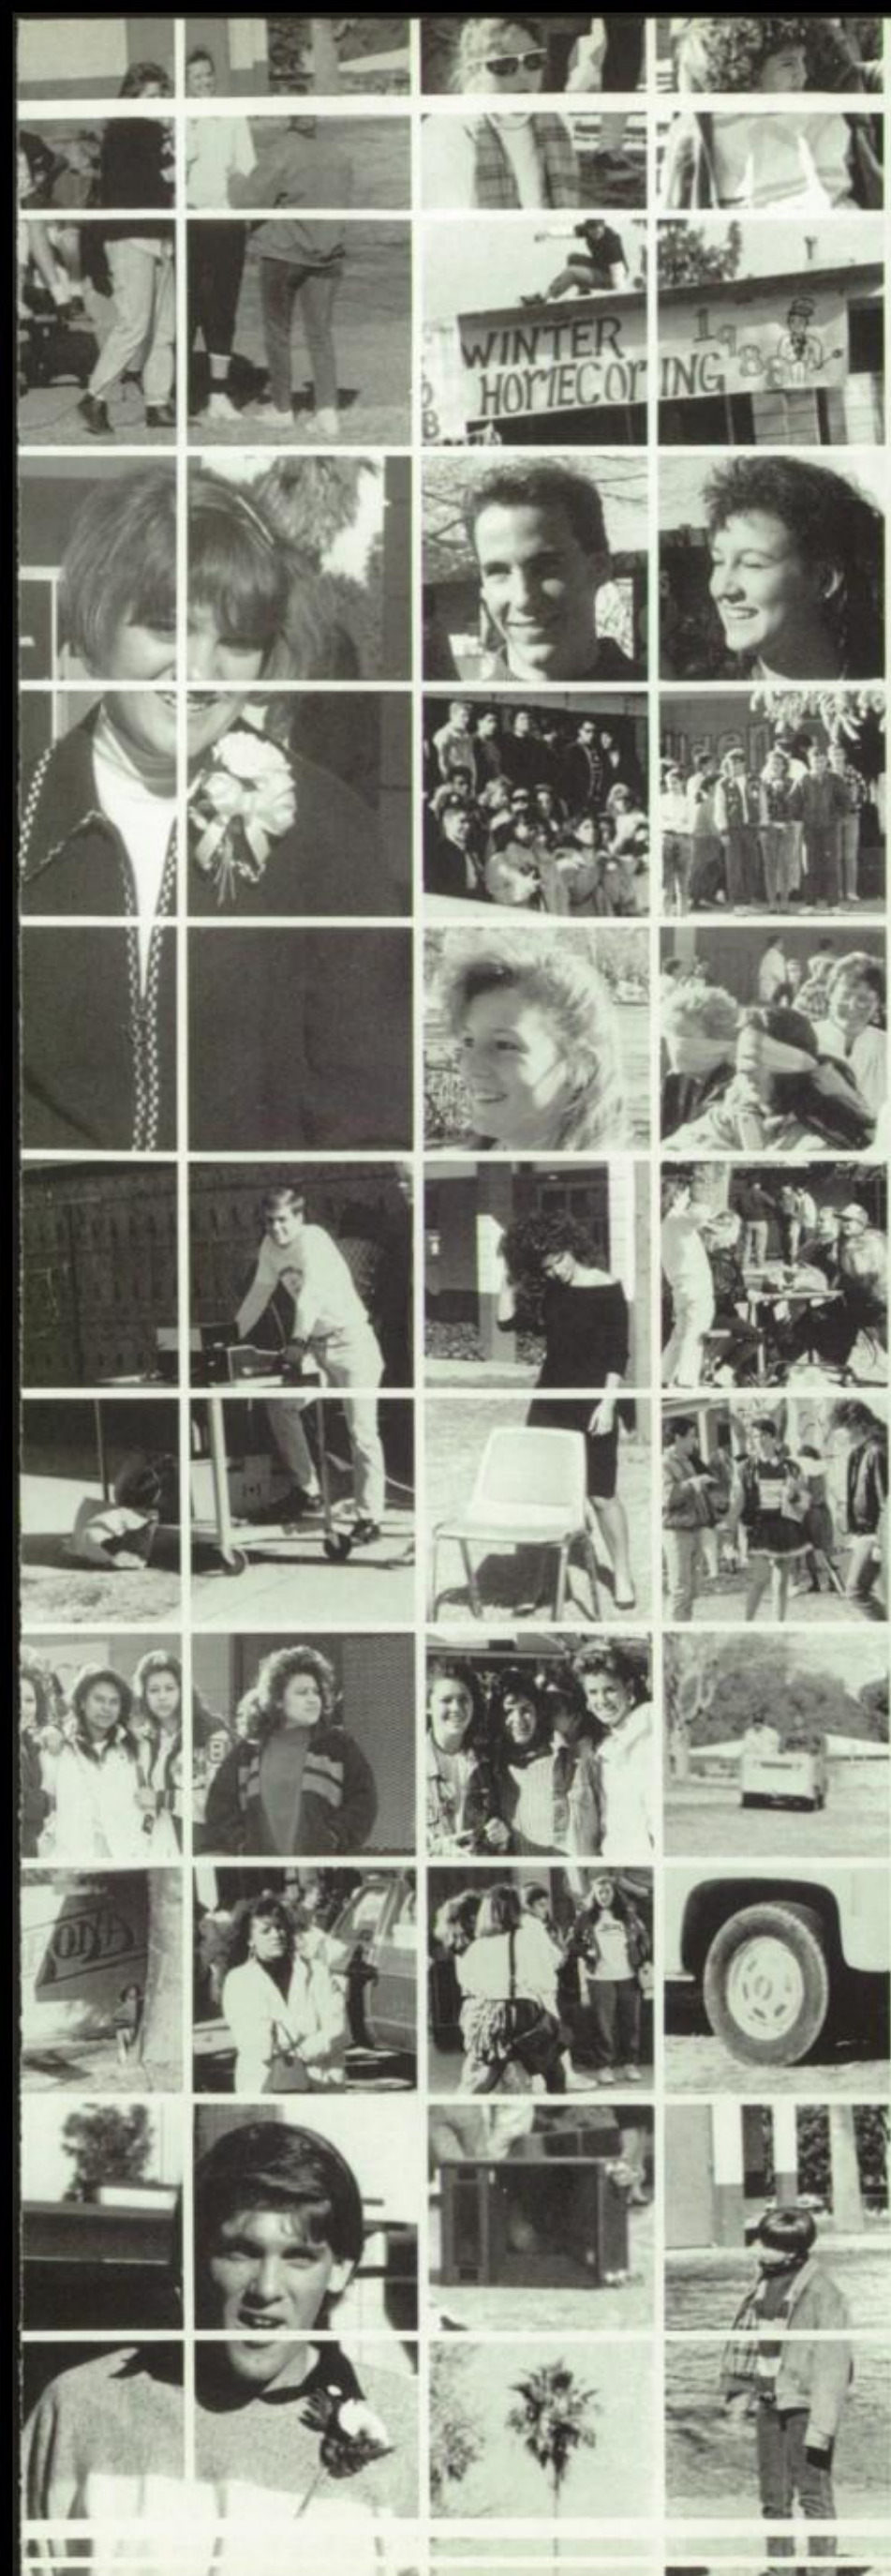

SPIRIT WEEK

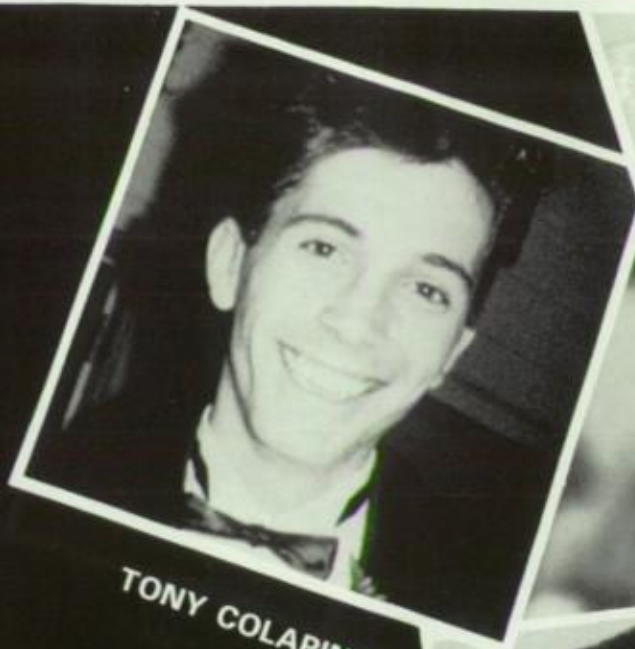

"Hey! Hey you . . . are you a senior?!! Have you voted for a candidate for Spirit King? . . . ok, all you senior girls, get over here and vote! Hey, Hey . . ." Such was the scene at the "nominating table," the week before Spirit Week. Senior girls cast their ballots (and got a hole punched in their ID cards too!) to decide who would be nominated for Spirit King Court. After all the dust had settled, the votes were voted and the ID cards punched, 19 senior guys were nominated: Jim Anderson, Ruben Ayala, Tony Colapinto, Sean Cotto, Keith Fenstermacher, Matt Forrester, Sean Gyll, Eric Kasperbauer, Keith Kelley, Chris Knaak, Scott Longbone, Mark McCorkell, Armando Montes, Robert Rivera, Dino Sanchez, Jon Siemsen, Charles Stevens, Allen Umbarger, and Ruben Zambrano. Cuz Monday was a school holiday, Tuesday we kicked off our week of activities with the announcement of court. Ruben Ayala, Tony Colapinto, Sean Cotto, Eric Kasperbauer (who missed the BIG EVENT for a dentist app.), Robert Rivera, Dino Sanchez, and Ruben Zambrano. To test out our new (and improved?!) court we had a mattress race at lunch — and saw just how much "pull" each of our guys had! Eric, who had Rhonda Felix and Kelly Gerrity tugging for him, swept the contest with a record 12.48 seconds. Ruben Zambrano with pullers Patty Tokahuta and Vernie Guerro, came in last because of "technical difficulties" with a tree and a time of . . . well, the bell rang and they were still pulling . . . Day Backward was Wednesday. And everyone wore their clothes backwards, or inside out. Gary Hawley made the fashion trend of the year that shocked and astounded us all when he wore his Levis backwards. We were grossed out as Lori Watt, Dawn Vinesk, Vernie Gurero, Kirshna Hamson, Ruben and Eric fed each other chocolate pudding, no spoons, blindfolded . . . Yuck! The outcome of the sticky gooeey mess was undecided because both junior and senior teams slurped up the last of the pudding at the same time. Things didn't look much better at lunch as we bagged (trash bags that is) our court and had a "whip-cream flick off." Contestants came up and took their best "flicks" of FREE whip cream at court members. Thursdays Bundle Up Day wasn't such a winter wonderland when temperatures rose to sunny 78°. The snack activity of a "warm clothes collection" was cancelled on account of the lack of people in scarves and mittens; however with some small "improvisations" a musical chair contest was held and everyone, including sophomores, came out. For lunch students put their money where their mouths were as court members were auctioned off to the highest bidder. And the highest bid was for Eric, 26 American dollars, paid by Laura Schwieger. Friday most of us donned our "basic generics" or black and white duds; however "the slaves for a day" found themselves wearing some stuff that wasn't fit for the second hand store — which was where most of it came from. Sean Cotto spaced out in a groovey paisley bell bottom suit with a lock and chain so his owner, Kari Pucci, could lock him up. Dino transformed into Disco Dean while Tony was incognito as an escaped mental patient with a teddy. Friday, we had a snack activity of Name That Tune and once again all classes, "sophomores do it again", participated with Danielle Hillman dominating the tunes! As game time rolled around everyone was at the edge of their seats with expectations of who would win? Who would be crowned with that Imperial margarine crown and "King of Spirit"? At the half, with the Panther team WINNING, the procession of "princes" came down the red carpet — WHO?!! WHO?! WHO WILL IT BE — Eric Kasperbauer was announced our 1988 Spirit King; And we won the game too!!

Did you ever wonder who picked up all the twinkie wrappers we threw down, or accidentally dropped that snack? Or who "Franny" was that Mr. [unclear] always talked to on the walkie talkie during detention? Or which magical person found out every time you forgot to go to class; and sent you a little pink slip to remind you about it? Who answered the phone when Mom and Dad called to make an appointment to talk with Dr. Miller? Who took care of all the books and showed you how to use those copy machines in the book room?
Who was Mrs. Hadcox's helper in the student store that made a new ID card when you 'misplaced' yours?
All of these people that took care of all the many things that we thought of as 'Classified'.

But where have they all gone? Classified books and papers have been put out them?

took first place while Robert Tipre, Billy Lapham, John Parra, Mark McCorkell, and Tom Herrera all took second advancing them to CIF. Advancing to CIF, Robert Tipre, Jim Bailey, Billy Lapham, Tom Herrera, John Parra, Mark McCorkell, and Keith Kelley all put forth their best. Keith Kelley took second in the 194 weight class and Robert Tipre and Jim Bailey came back for second day consolation rounds. To end the season, Keith Kelley advanced to the Masters and did a great job. March 24 brought the Wrestling Banquet to Sizzler and everyone had a terrific time saluting the wrestlers and coaches that makes our team so great. Awards went to Dean Chairito — JV team captain; Jim Area — JV Coaches Award; Ken Kelley — JV Most Improved; Varsity Team Captain — Bill Taylor; Most Inspirational — Mark McCorkell; Most Improved — Jim Bailey; Coaches — Robert Tipre; and Most Valuable — Keith Kelley. The 1987-88 Wrestling team had another outstanding season with a 6-1 league record and a 9-1 record overall. In their season opener they defeated Eisenhower. It was evident that the team continued to grow and improve throughout the season as a result of their hard work. At the first tournament at Rim we took second place with gold medals going to Keith Kelley, Mark McCorkell, Bill Taylor and Billy Lapham. Silver medals went to Robert Tipre and Anthony Rios. At the Indio tournament we received third place and Dean Sanchez won a second place medal. The team's only loss came in a tough match against Hemet 27-38. Against our rivals, Norco, we defeated them 52-8 with outstanding pins from Jim Area, Phil Foley, and Issac McCorkell. Against Ramona, Brandon Walton had a 0:33 pin to contribute to our win of 42-22. In the match against North we won 42-30 but lost one of our wrestlers for the season, Bill Taylor, due to injury. At the league finals, Keith Kelley and Jim Bailey

Girls SOCCER

Coming into the 1988 season with the reputation of Ivy League co-champs, the girls' soccer team faced a big challenge — especially since there were only two returning seniors, and a starting team of all underclassmen. Another challenge faced by the team was to take sole possession of the crown, which they shared with Hemet last year. The first game Corona had against Hemet was a tough loss of 5-1 with Allison Thompson scoring the only goal. The second meeting, and showdown, being the final fight at clenching the title, Corona experienced its toughest game ever. In a knock down, drag out, winner takes the title match, the Panthers gave an outstanding performance with Rochelle Reese and Thompson being key offensive players. In the final three minutes after Corona had dominated the entire game, Hemet made an attempt to make the winning goal and succeeded, slipping away with a lucky shot and the league title. There were bright moments in the overall successful season. Such as the game vs. Perris in which Corona slammed the opposing Panthers with a 8-0 victory. The Ramona game and Thompson's goal within the first minute of play. Especially sweet, and always savored was the Panthers win over Norco, 2-1, with Cindy Rice and Stephanie Hood leading the offensive drives. Marcie Bell, Corona's goal keeper, crunched down the Cougars with four saves in a game which was seen by at least 200 fans. Capping off the season was the teams' CIF first round wild card game against Walnut in which a goal made in the first 30 seconds stopped any dreams of breaking the four season taboo on first round losses for Corona. Next season looks promising as Coach Spawr reflects "everyone is returning . . ." and with this seasons' experience tucked under their cleats . . . things are looking good. All-Ivy League honors went to Cindy Rice, Rochelle Reese, and Allison Thompson for first team; Stephanie Hood and Marcie

Bell — second team; Nina Long — honorable mention.

BOYS SOCCER

Champs

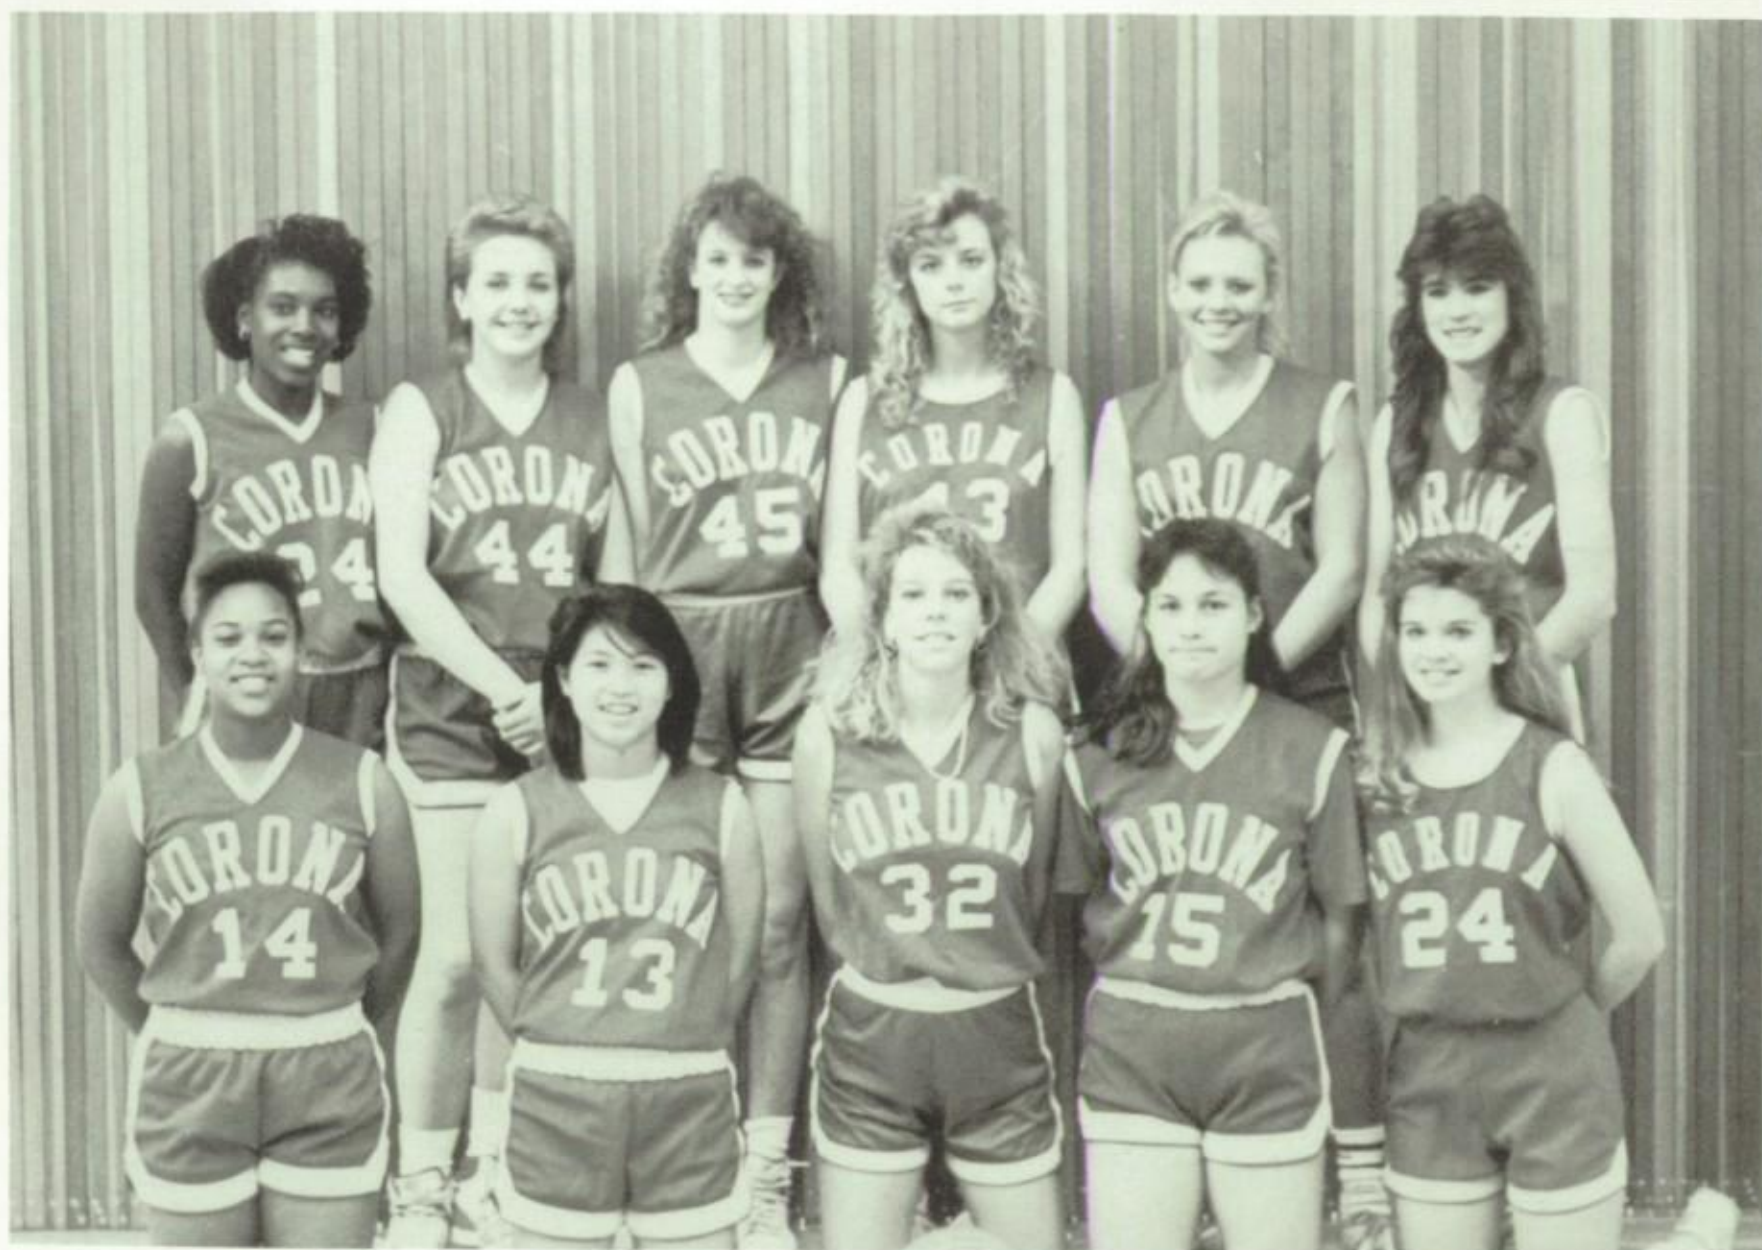

Making an outstanding comeback after a disappointing season last year, the boy's Varsity Soccer team proved to be a dominate force in the Ivy League. In the Rubidoux tournament, Corona lost only to 4-A Riverside Poly in the second round and 3-A Burroughs to take 6th place. Coach Grove was very pleased with the outcome. Jim Anderson made the All-Tournament team and Greg Hood played an outstanding tournament. The first game of the league season was against 1987 Champs, North. The Panthers won 3-1, giving them the first win over North in six years. Robert Rivera and Brian Glenn played very well at defense. At Palm Springs the Panthers prevailed 5-1, the Indians haven't been beaten in the desert for years. Doug DiPaolo scored two goals and goals were scored by Hood, Pancho Gomez, and Tom Fitzgerald. In the first round game against crosstown rival, Norco, Corona played 80 minutes of regulation play, plus 20 minutes of overtime, but could only tie, 1-1. David Jennings scored the only Panther goal. Against Ramona the Panthers won easily 5-1 with Hood scoring a season high of four goals. Corona showed true championship from the second outing against Norco, beating them 2-0. Hood and Gomez scored. The last game of the season was against Arlington. The Lions gave the Panthers a tough fight and after 20 minutes of overtime the game was still tied 0-0. Greg Walters played superb defense and Brian Glenn had an outstanding game stopping many sure goals. Mark DiPaolo played an aggressive game. Thinking they were out of first place, the Panthers, battered and torn, made their way to the bus. A pizza party was planned that night to celebrate a terrific season. As players left Circle J's, a very ecstatic Mike Grout announced . . . "North beat HEMET 1-0! We're CHAMPS!" Corona beat Hemet out of first by $\frac{1}{2}$ game. A very successful season indeed for the Panthers. The first round CIF game was against Victor Valley, whom Corona played in the Rubidoux tourney and beat 2-1. The game, scheduled for Friday afternoon was postponed until Saturday because of high winds. The game was a hard fought battle, despite the hot weather. Although Corona dominated the game, they failed to put the ball into the net. With one minute left in the second overtime, Victor Valley scored a controversial goal to put them ahead, 1-0, and the win. Jason Lee, Dan Zubak, Matt Mattingly and Brian Glenn had exceptional games against Victor Valley. Corona took 11 league honors with Jim Anderson, Brian Glenn, Mike Grout, and Greg Hood making First Team All-Ivy League. Pancho Gomez, Jason Lee, and Dan Zubak made Second Team, with Doug DiPaolo, Mark DiPaolo, Robert Rivera, and Greg Walters getting Honorable Mention League Honors. Corona's Junior Varsity went through their tenth straight year undefeated in league play.

Coach Castro returned to coach the Girl's Varsity Basketball team to a second place finish in the Ivy League; an impressive list of wins in tournament play; and an over-all outstanding season. The team finished with a 10-4 league record and a 14-9 overall record. Shellie McCall, senior, was named to the All-Ivy League first team as she clearly led the Panthers in points scored and rebounds. Hollie Keeton, sophomore, and Mary Ann Sekel were honored with Second Team Honors in the league balloting. In pre-season tournament play the Panthers placed third in both the La Sierra and Eisenhower tourneys. McCall paced the Panthers to win Most Valuable Honors at La Sierra as the team pulled their defense together. With the encouragement of the pre-season Castro and her team entered league competition. The unit found strength as they met Hemet in the first round of league play. McCall and the Panthers truly dominated the boards as she brought down 23 points in the 60-34 win. Against a strong Perris unit MaryAnn Sekel led the Panthers defensively and had a good outing with 12 points. Mao Nguyen had 7 with an outside 3-pointer to her credit, McCall had 18 as the Panthers pulled out clearly in the third quarter. Laura Stewart and Tonia Boren had good games in the win against Ramona; as the Panthers held unto second place in league. In the second round win against Hemet, McCall had 20 points, while Tonya Jones had an excellent outing with 9 rebounds to help pace the Panthers. Keeton scored 15 in the 62-25 win over the Bulldogs. For team and fans the highlight of the season was the Panther's first win over the Cougars since 1978. McCall provided the spark as the Panthers exploded during the first half. We watched the lead slip away, holding on to a one point win, 39-38, in the final minutes of the game. With CIF and the end in sight Coach Castro was "... really pleased with how far the team has come." They finished up their best regular season in over a decade with a heavy win over Arlington. The Panthers opened in the CIF 3A playoffs, Feb. 20th, against Valencia. "I got about six floor burns all over my body." (Sekel) "It was jungle ball." (Nguyen). An enthusiastic crowd watched the home team try to gain control of the intense program on the court, but when the final buzzer sounded Valencia had defeated the Panthers 63-43. The season was over. The JV team came in third in league with a 9-5 league record, 11-8 over-all. "We had a fine season. Our girls played hard and well all year long. The highlights of the season were the win over Ramona and Arlington," commented Coach Fritz as the season ended. At the year-end banquet Tonya Jones received the Most Improved award, while MaryAnn Sekel was honored by Coach Castro and her teammates with the Hustle Trophy. Hollie Keeton received the Coaches' Award for her accomplishments and Shellie McCall took home Most Valuable Honors and the Star Award. JV honors went to Erin Alexander — MVP; Jeannie Quigley — Most Improved; Paula Durkee — Coaches' Award; and Cindy Greenwell — Captain Award.

After having a great pre-season of tournament play, with Rick Zelazowski making the All-Tourney team at the Moreno Valley Shootout, the Hoopsters were ready to start their season! The Boys Varsity took on North in the first game of the season and ended up taking out a disappointing loss which dampened the team spirit. After another six straight losses the Panthers bounded back into action beating Arlington 79-58, with Fritz Ehorn scoring 27 points and Rick Zelazowski with 15. Next, the Boys edged out North in overtime 79-77 with top scores by Zelazowski with 24 and Ehorn with 14. After a minor setback or two the Hoopsters beat Palm Springs in another exciting overtime victory 71-65, with great scoring by Ehorn with 10 points and Carl Matthews with 14. The Varsity's season ended in a big way! The Boys hammered Norco in a last minute win 52-50 and last but not least, finished off Arlington 69-65. Honors went to Rick Zelazowski making first team All-League, Carl Matthews make second team All-League and John Child received Honorable Mention All-League. Under Coach Bywater the Junior Varsity squad had a successful season with a 10-4 league record. Jeremie McKee received the MVP award for the JV's while Dan Nabrotsky — Most Improved; Scott Dexter — Mr. Hustle; and Tim DeLange — Coaches' Trophy from Coach Bywater. Varsity Honors awarded at the season's end went to Carl Matthews — Most Improved; Gus Arce — Mr. Hustle for his team spirit and leadership; Bill Wilson was awarded the Coaches' Trophy for his dedication; while John Child and Rick Zelazowski shared the Captain Honors. Senior Rick Zelazowski received the team's Most Valuable Honors to round out the awards. Photo 1. We friends walk heart in heart growing and persuading each other in love. The good times we share are special, the hard times we aren't above. The hard times are our strength. We take each day with stride. Forming this precious friendship we look at with eyes of pride. Honesty and trust is what we believe in. It makes us what we are. Never giving up, only growing stronger. We are a brotherhood.

The best by far.

From dawn to dusk Steve Earhart, Herbie Sellers, Randy Kasperbaur, and friends go skating. We all enjoy skating because it's different everyday and we get along with each other. It's different everyday because you can learn different tricks. We get along pretty good because we all enjoy the same thing, and that is SKATING!

The friendship between Mark and I started because we wanted some one safe parking next to each other . . . and from there it built on to showing cars together, as well as washing and waxing."

Shooting isn't why we are friends. It's just something we have in common. Something we both do well, and can keep each other under control when there's a lot of pressure. Together we are a team and without the other there is nothing.

working things out.

Young love..

we all experience it we'll never forget it. How can anyone forget their first love? Their first kiss? Their first broken heart? Young love makes us the happiest, luckiest person on earth one day, and crying rivers and totally shredded the next. It's not really important what we do together, as long as we do it together, going to the movies, to concerts, or just sitting around. As long as you're with that special someone

IT'S FUN!!!

HA!

HA!

HA!

HA!

A friend is someone who can laugh at you . . . but you don't mind. Someone who you can do your Tom Cruise "lost that loving feeling" impersonation while in your Superman pajamas in front of . . . and not be embarrassed. Someone who you don't mind letting into your room when all the clothes you own are on the floor. Someone you can lip-sync Neil Diamond songs with. A friend is someone you laugh with . . . or at . . . or together, or . . . or something like that, but it feels good when a friend laughs at you, because they're your friend, ya know???

Among the hundreds of faces we meet each day, we are lucky to find the one person who we consider to be our "best friend." But to know this special friend for over a number of years can often be a great accomplishment.

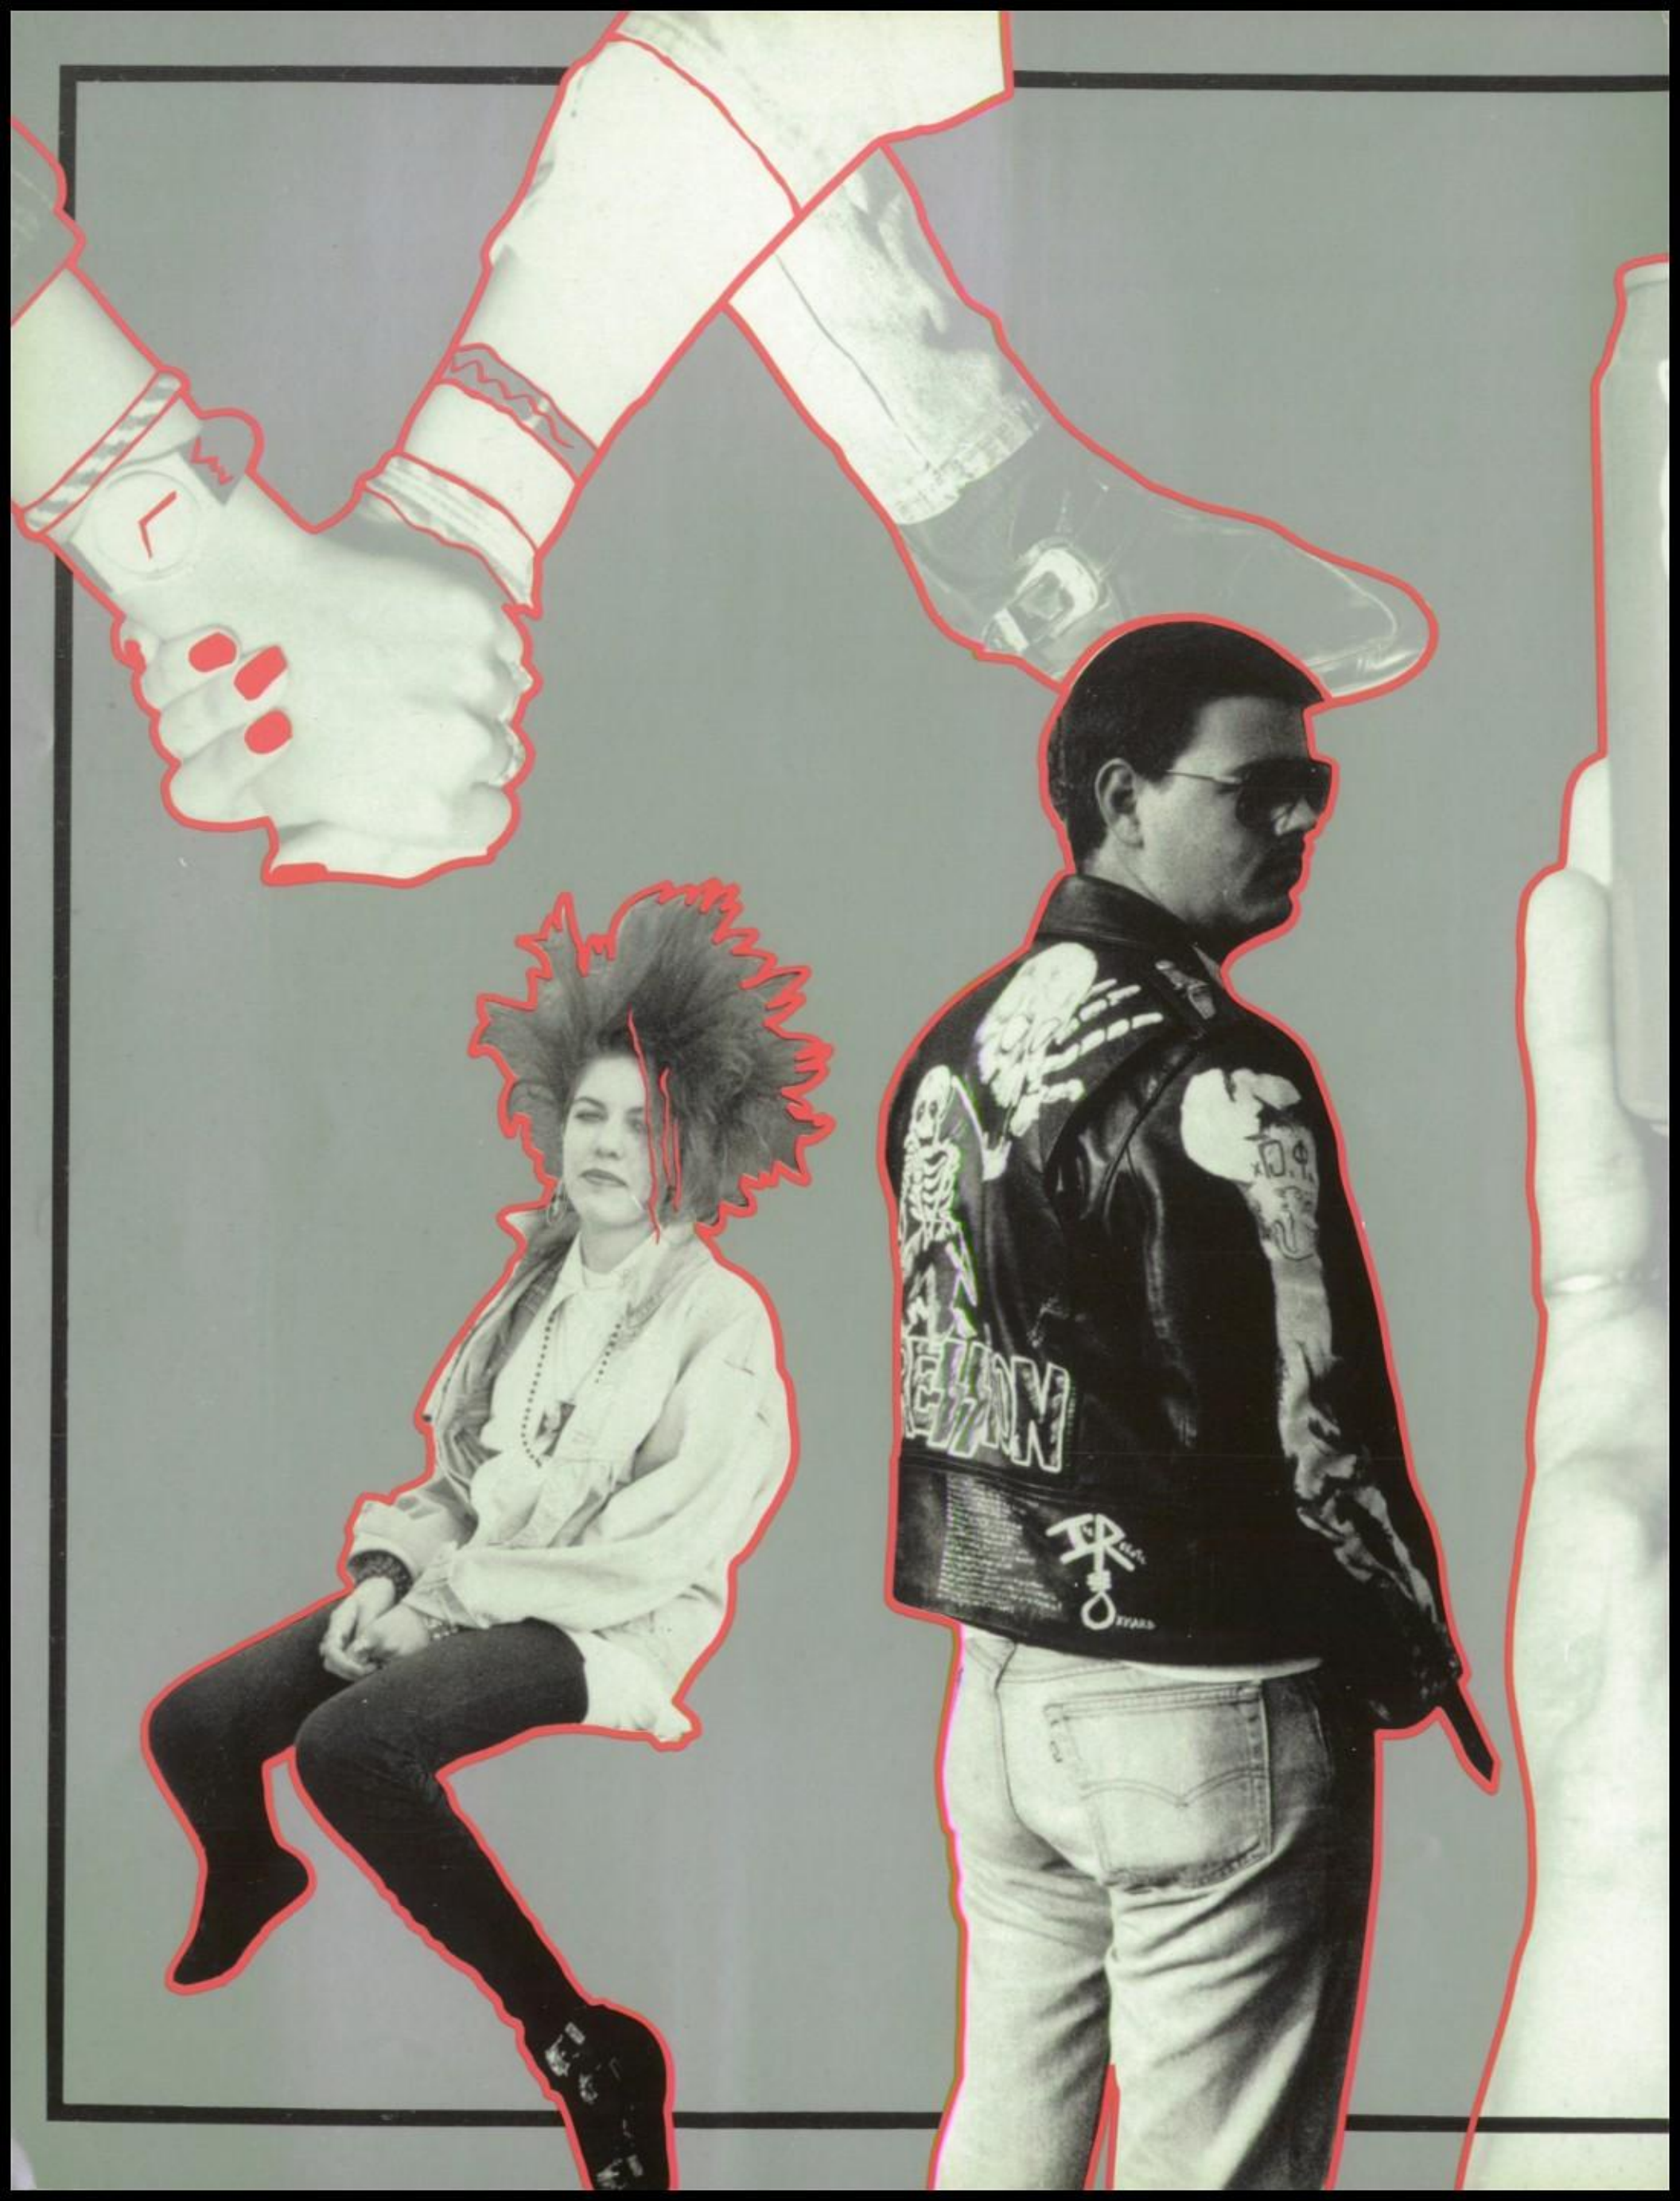

Forever friends

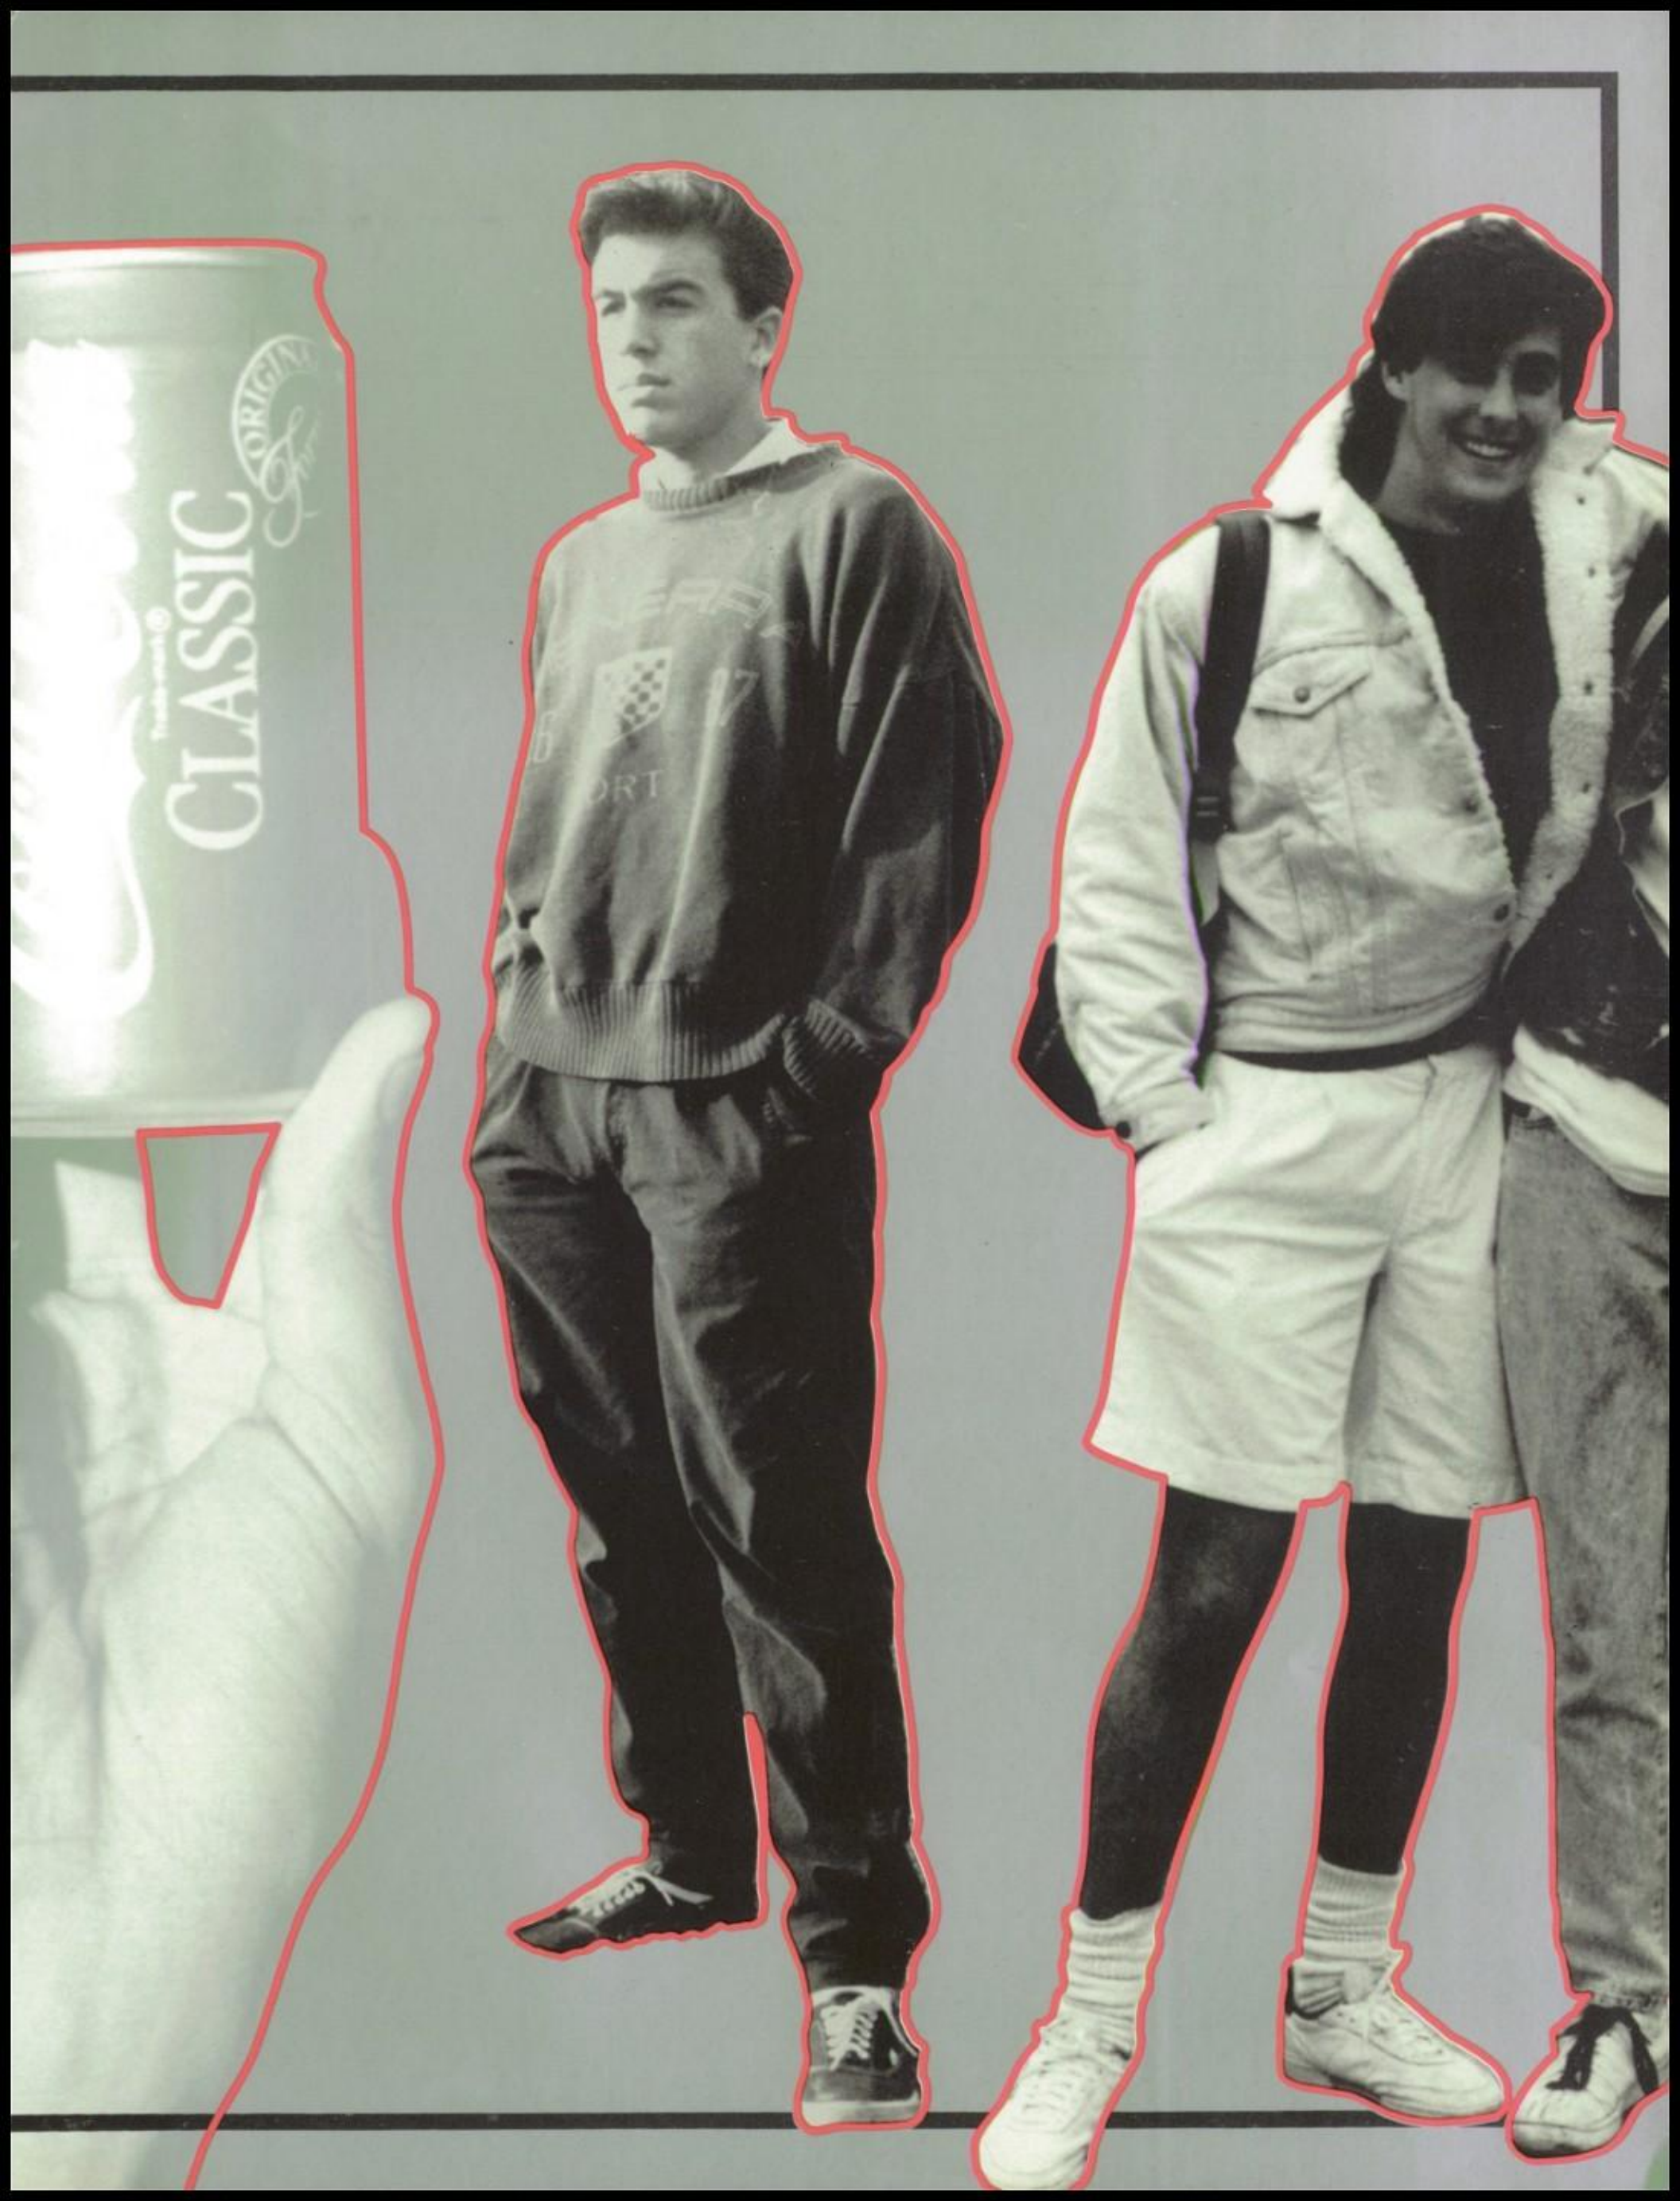

Sharlynn Mote: "Elisa and I met in kindergarten while standing in line to go to the bathroom before naptime. I heard someone giggling behind me and I turned around . . . the rest is history! Best Friends Forever!"
Elisa Crabtree: "Sharlynn and I have a lot of shared secrets that no one else knows about. We can act goofy and stupid together! And no matter how distant we are sometimes, we will always be best friends."

Groups

Pictures, Pictures, Pictures, and the lack of them kept the procrastinating staff in motion. Sylvia Alvarez's camera was constantly clicking to record the year in pictures, she was joined by Hughy Livingstone, Corey Leon and Sue Lee throughout the year. Chrissy Wolfe edited the homecoming section and served in every never fail capacity throughout the year. Christy Fisher and Jeanae Barnhart served on the staff during the first semester as Deana Roy, Ursula Cornejo, Laura Schweiger, Nina Loikas, Naoko Nishumera, and Rachelle Reynolds made their final spring deadlines: with Ruben Zambrano saying "what layout?!!!!". Even though Jimmy Anderson and Greg DeRuyter fooled around and made the class more fun, they always came through. ALL RIGHT... CHS... Pep Squad!!! With the addition of the Junior Varsity Songleaders, this year's squad was the largest most enthusiastic group in recent years. It started over the summer for this dedicated group; dragging themselves out of bed in the early morning hours of July and August to practice routines and plan rallies. But it paid off in the form of awards and honors when they attended a four day camp at UCI. the Varsity Cheer brought home a Superrior trophy for the second year in a row and all four squads combined (with the help of our mascot) earned the coveted spirit stick for outstanding pep and spirit!
 The varsity cheers represented Corona High as the defending champions at the annual RCC Cheerleading and Spirit competition. Led by captains Patty Tokahuta, Shariynn Mote — Varsity Cheers, Kristi Pyles — Varsity Songleaders, Stephanie Wilcox — JV Cheer, Amber Foster — JV Songleader, the squad supported and performed at football, volleyball, basketball games and wrestling meets. Under the direction of sponsor, Mrs. Yeager, the songleading squads presented many a professional dance routine at the spirit rallies and

LEADERSHIP LEADERSHIP LEADERSHIP

People always asked, "What exactly do you do in Leadership?" And there's only one answer . . . EVERYTHING!! If it had something to do with student activities, it came from Leadership. From spring elections until graduation '88 has past. This years ASB officers ran a never ending schedule of meetings, luncheons, conferences, and campus activities. With the memory of campaign flyers still fresh in his mind, ASB President — Chris Knaak began planning the annual CHS chaperoned "camp out" with Adams school and summer planning sessions. From summer til June 16th "Chris was our man" for everything from picking up the sophomore officers and bringing them to school, to staying after school in the student store planning away with "Mrs. Haddie" and Mrs. Eckardt, (leaderships second "Mommy"). Time and time again throughout the year Activities Comm. — Chrissy Wolfe kept waiting for a breather, but it never came!!! Deepak Nanda — Business Comm. kept the entire school supplied with all the doughnuts, hot chocolate and blue books they could ever want. Melissa and Suzy, ASB Treasurer and ASB Secretary, kept the class laughing, in the money, and updated with all the minutes. Gary, Dan, and Keith video taped it, sound checked it, or P.A.ed anything and everything from Homecoming Announcement to "our song and dance" for Pilgrim Pines. Everybody helped, everybody worked and in the end, no matter how "improvised" it was — everything went off GREAT!! JAZZ ENSEMBLE

The Jazz Ensemble, one of the most dedicated groups on campus, highlighted their year with a spring tour to San Francisco. For seniors such as Andy Nathan the ensemble provided a group experience in artistic expression and hopefully a growing environment for further education. After a fall semester of organization and practice the group began their spring festival competition, competing at Hemet and other area festivals. Photo (back): Andy Nathan, Armand Welsh, Brad Northcutt, Barry Calvert, Donny Goldberg. Center: Robert Bega, Lori Seawater. Front: Brent Glassick, Dorothy Diess, Adrienne Weatherford, Joe Aguirre, Tony Gomez, Mr. Burns — Director.

The CHS Flag Line took on a new look this year. They had a great new advisor, Mrs. Svarc and help from the band leader, Mr. Burns. They performed and appeared on television Christmas Day. At the Norco parade they took second place. Second semester they took to the court in Winter Guard Competition preparing themselves by practicing ten hours per week. Photo (Back row): Kim Ordonio, Lisa Burk, Tanya Finney, Bennee Gray, Denise Gramados, Tammy Stroh, Liz Murda, Clarissa Duffey, Jennifer Riley, Rhonda Montano; (Front row) Jeanne Przybyszewski, Connie Sunderlin, Linnette Devin.

TALL FLAGS

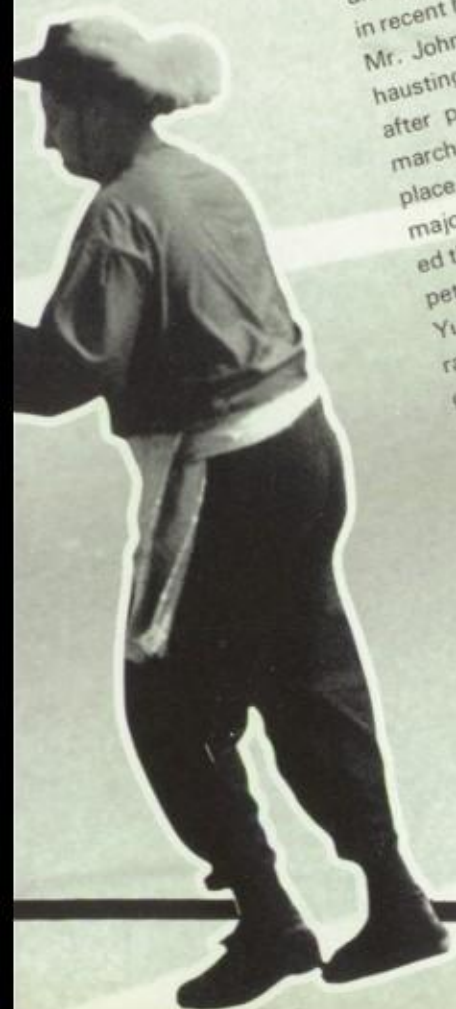

MARCHING BAND

After initiating the fourth band director in the first five weeks of school, the Panther Band was ready to go, and go they did, with one of the most successful years in recent history. Under the direction of the new 'man' Mr. John Burns the marching units performed an exhausting schedule of performances. In early December after performing at half time and rallies the band marched in the Highland Park parade, winning a third place trophy for their efforts. Brad Northcutt, drum major, and Denise Granados, solo twirler, were awarded third and first place honors respectively in the competition. The following weekend they performed at the Yucaipa Christmas parade and the Corona Holiday parade, all will remember the freezing cold weather, fingers and toes, as the unit marched off with third place honors out of 18 bands. After a single night's rest the unit was off to Southgate for one of Southern California's toughest competitions. Corona High won fifth, Northcutt — fourth, while both Denise Granados and Melissa Wallace won awards in the solo competition. Changing a school tradition the marching unit continued competing during second semester, competing and performing at the Dodger Stadium Band Night, Disneyland and Magic Mountain. In addition the group joined the Jazz Band in their tour of the San Francisco area in what proved to be a successful run of performances and sight seeing for the units. Also new to the group this year was the new Banner line, captained by Michelle McKinnon and Deena Frank, and the Drum line competitions. The Drum Line, under the direction of Steve Yates, performed at La Habra, Diamond Bar, Los Angeles, Bellflower competitions, and ended their season with regional finals at La Habra High School. Fund raisers for the units expenses were chaired by Adrienne Weatherford and the band board: President — Barry Calvert, Secretary — Dorothy Diess, Treasurer — Brad Northcutt. In addition the unit performed as a concert group in presenting their annual Christmas concert, spring concerts and several area festivals. MADRIGAL SINGERS

Choir and Madrigals directed by Mr. Smith, were very active this year. They were chosen to perform many times at special occasions. They presented their annual Chi Christmas and Spring concerts. And performed, what seemed, a never-ending holiday schedule within the community. Anyone with an interest in singing or performing can sign up for choir, but Madrigals are a smaller, more select group chosen by audition only. The Madrigals have had fund-raisers to go to Washington D.C. this year to perform at the All-America Music Festival. They performed at the Jefferson and Lincoln Memorials, and the National Cathedral during Easter vacation. They were very excited about going and had loads of fun while singing, performing and sightseeing. Mr. Smith stated, "This is the best group since I don't know when."

CHOIR

KO HI NUR

Historically, the KO-HI-NUR is a very famous and valuable diamond. Rangram Chandran — editor, and the staff worked endless hours in an attempt to give the school newspaper the quality and brilliance that would imitate the first KO-HI-NUR. Publishing a monthly edition of news and editorials taught the staff members the true meaning of deadlines. Working only after school they found themselves doubling up on responsibilities to get each addition to press on time. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Hadcox, the newspaper and its staff felt little of the censorship ruling by the federal courts in mid-January. Photo (top l-r): Denise Miskulin, Suzanne Elizararas, Rosa Torres, Janette Seager. Front: Kristine Siegers, Gary Hawley, Rangram Chandran, Mark Krueger, Brad Northcutt. (not pictured) Alma Martinez, Keith Fenstermacher.

CSF

CSF (California Scholarship Federation) basically is a state honorary society. Locally the club provides social activities for those students with a 4.0 GPA over a five semester period. Members ran the snack bar at home basketball games to help fund the activities and provide scholarships for individual members. Life members receive special recognition at the awards assembly and at graduation. Rangram Chandran served as the groups president with Brad Northcutt backing him up as VP. Suzanne Elizararas and Alma Martinez fulfilled the duties of secretary and treasurer respectively. Photo. (top l-r): Amy Vanderweerd, Janette Kraft, Kelly Hester, Deepak Nanda, Mark Krueger, Athena Jesch, Terri Delgadillo. How does spending an hour after school for a semester studying every aspect of our educational forum and keeping abreast with current and historical philosophies sound? For many it would sound like detention, but for the ten members of the Academic Decathlon it was truly the pursuit for academic excellence. This pursuit plus a sincere desire to win and a thirst for knowledge and information kept the membership pouring over information and research. Under the guidance of Mr. Phillips the team participated in the January county competition. Members competed in debate type forums expressing personal opinions and fact. Each member was required to take eight tests, compete in a speech competition and participate in a personal interview with the judges. Rangram Chandran won a gold medal in the personal interview section and a bronze in science to place the Corona team with the highest ranking in recent years. Front: Teri Delgadillo, Rangram Chandran, Steve Jackson.

ACADEMIC DECATHLON

FBLA

The Future Business Leaders of America, under the sponsorship of Miss Byrd, is a national organization for all students interested in business occupations. Our local group has long been one of the most active groups on campus. This is due largely to the interest and enthusiasm of the leadership and Miss Byrd. Members use classroom skills to compete in regional and state FBLA competitions. Local participants excelled in shorthand, typing and computer skills. The active participation truly increased self-confidence in job skills and interview preparation. Fund raisers paid for speakers and workshop directors, social activities and conference participation. Photo Row (l-r): Mrs. Austin, Ms. Byrd, Mrs. Lenny. Row 2: Jessica Martinal, Traci Reddick, Michelle Hutchison, Keith Fenstermacher, Trisa Chavez, Brad Northcutt.

DRAMA

The Drama Club rejoined the campus organizations after a couple years absence. Headed by sponsor Mrs. McIntire club members spent hours refurbishing the Little Theatre. Lights were rehung, flats constructed and a whole new stage unit built. With the drama classes, the group put on a successful fall production of 1 act scenes call "Set the Scenes." This production provided many students with the opportunity to learn stage blocking and the thrill (or fright) of acting. In the spring, forces were joined with the music department in the production of "South Pacific." President Jeff Sundquist and

SADD

Under the sponsorship of Ms. Rodenbacher and Mrs. Wright the SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) took on the never ending challenge and campaign against drunk driving in the teen age population. The national Red Ribbon Week was chaired by president Amy Mahaffey with the aid of Angela Playle. Bright yellow balloons, red ribbons on everything; including the faculty; and speeches reminded the student body of their cause. Once again at prom time and graduation members campaigned for safety and against the loss of life due to drunk driving. Photo. (front: Geneen Campbell, Amy Mahaffey, Kaylyn Shubnell. Back: Ms. Rodenbacher, Angela Playle, Tracie Briner, Andrea Fuller, Lisa Simpson, Mrs. Wright.

Students Against Suicide was founded in the 1984 school year by Tammi Burnett in order to make other students aware of the epidemic proportions of teen-aged suicides and develop an awareness of suicide prevention agencies. SAS is working to raise money to provide suicide prevention booklets to all members of the club. "We want to be able to help and be there for those who are contemplating suicide. If we have helped just one person this year, we will have accomplished our task." Photo 1. Row 1. Laura Schwieger, Corey Leon, Cyndi Brown, Janette Seager, Lori Chun, Ruby Fuentes, Row 2. SAS

Mock Trial, directed by Mrs. McIntire and Mr. Wallace, was a special group of students acting out cases and competing against other schools in real courts, with real judges. WOW!!! There was a Mock Trial class this year after school 7th period, as they called it. The after-school class was for reviewing the cases, helping out witnesses with their stories, and aiding the lawyers prosecute more effectively. Photo top (l-r) Mrs. McIntire, Joanne Levy, Mr. Wallace, Brent Glassick, Josh Burgess, Mike Caldwell, Adrienne Phillips, Richard Muirhead, Tim Barnhart, Lynette Devon. bottom (l-r) Monica Coleman, Denise Johnson, Lisa Mitchell, Jeff Sundquist, Wendy Paine.

MOCK TRIAL

DESIGN TECH

Design Tech provided the back bone for the Drafting organization or group. Members shared a common interest in drafting and computer tech design. Under the hand of Mr. Doerr members once again successfully competed in county and state competitions with success. Photo. Row 1. Aurelio Serrato, Jason Hubbard, Kristy Burdick, Jim Anderson, Marco Eacrett, Donald Tronti. Row 2. Jose Lopez, Mark Anders, Aimee Loizeaux, Mark McCorkell, Peggy Morgan, Jamie Morbido. Row 3. IND. WOODS

WOODCHOPPERS . . . are far from choppers. The club consisted of advanced woodworking students under the watchful eye of Mr. Burdick. Tuned to the art of excellent craftsmanship the members once again ran away with the county wide Tyler Mall show. They brought home more Sweepstake awards than any other school and dominated the blue ribbon awards. In addition top prize pieces competed in Sacramento for state-wide honors. Tensions were lessened by Chris Puga's never ending comedy and Mr. Burdick's tamales. Photo Row 1 (l-r): Doug Williams, Denny Bourassa, Ron Curl, Carlos Cerda, Row 2. Future Farmers of America, or FFA, is a fairly large club of well over 50 students. The purpose of this is to help students better understand agriculture. Members of FFA have a chance to participate in various judging contest, such as the Indio Fair and the Horticulture, where they judged plants, vegetables, landscaping, bee farms, live stock, tools and small engines. FFA

With Mr. Gonzales and Mr. Woodward at the lead, the Auto Club had an eventful year. Sharing an interest in contemporary design and motor construction members spent their time tearing down and rebuilding their engines. In addition they attended several southern California auto shows and design forums. Photo Row 1. Ruben Alvarado, Jerry Gonzales, Victor Ahumada, Rene Hernandez, Tom Olson. Row 2. AUTO CLUB

LETTERMEN

The lettermen's club supported the boys' athletics on campus. The club was open to all guys who received a letter in a varsity sport. The members in the club had dances and slave sales for fund raisers. The proceeds were used for donations to the athletic teams. The members enjoyed their Ski Trip outings and Catalina in the spring. Mr. Newton was the club's sponsor. Club Officers: Pres. — Mike Ling, V. Pres. — Bob "Ace" Grant, Sec. — Bryan Anderson, Treas. — Bill Taylor. GAA

GAA has been around since the early 70's, almost as long as Ms. Byrd has been the advisor, and before that Miss Castro captained the organization through their activities. With their major role being the support of the girl's athletic program the club annually sponsors the highly successful Holiday Formal. In addition funds are made available to girls for trips to colleges to visit their program and campus. Photo Row 1. YOUNG REPUBLICANS

New Visions was organized this year for students on campus so that they could get together and discuss their individual ideas and beliefs. And also to meet new friends with the same interests and backgrounds. NEW VISIONS

CHRC

Did you ever see a person walk down the halls with a bouquet of balloons that said, "Happy Birthday," "Thinking of You," "Just Because," "I Got the Hots 4 You," or just one that said, "I Have A Balloon, and You Don't!" Did you ever wonder "Where did the balloons come from?" The people responsible for this were the members of CHRC, Corona High Resource Club, better known as the "Balloon Express." The Balloon Express was an on-going business experience for students in Mrs. Milier and Mrs. Janoski's resource class. The students were required to calculate, record, and keep track of all the sales, earnings, and profits made from the Balloon Express. The proceeds earned from the earnings went toward community services, school services, and of course the students had an activity for those who participated in the club. Students ordered balloons during snack, or before and after school, and were delivered the last 10 minutes of 4th period class. Photo: Row 1 (L-R) Tracie Cole, Vida Pena, Mrs. Janoski, Mrs. Miller. MECHA

Under the sponsorship of Senior Nino the Mecha Club gave its membership a list of activities, such as the Ice Cream Social and Christmas at Victruos Bowers and Corona Headstart. Cinco De Mayo's Mexican festivities was Mecha's main sponsor where the club held a Mexican banquet for the court and its sponsors. Club Officers: Pres. — Rosa Torres, and V. REP. COUNCIL

The Rep Council are students who attend meetings given by the A.S.B. every first Tuesday of every month. The reason for these meetings is so that the Student Reps can pass on information to his or her class about upcoming events. These students play an important role in the A.S.B. nominating convention in casting their class's votes on who they feel is most qualified to be on the school wide ballot. This year, under the direction of A.S.B. Vice President Kim Foster, the Pep Council had a project every month which contributed to more school spirit and aid to the community. Photo 1. LOS AMIGOS

Los Amigos, a club made up of over 20 students, participated in their annual activities including selling carnations, and assisting at car washes in order to earn money to go to Magic Mountain in the spring and take a tour at R.C.C. Mrs. Kerr has sponsored the club for four years. Club Officers: Pres. — Francisco Gomez; Vice Pres. — Ruben Munoz; Secretary — Silvia Villasenor; Treasurer — Jose Espinoza. "PE is an easy grade . . . all you have to do is dress out!" was many students comment, but what about that tennis test you failed or those 600 pushups? The program gave us a wide variety of activities to play or master, not to mention the increase in faculty to maintain the mass of students enrolled in each period. Photo 1. Coach Pratt 2. "Saturday school! AGAIN!! OH! NO! Now I'm gonna get it! I mean, I just missed one period (for three weeks), but I mean it was just geometry." Was the average comment after an unplanned visit to I-1 and the Assistant Principals. Many students wondered who those strange people lurking around school, hiding behind their sunglasses, and talking into an odd-looking black boxes were. Were they spies from Norco. Maybe an alien from another planet? In reality; if it wasn't security; it was an administrator. In addition to making sure that we gave an honest effort to attending class on a regular basis they had the never ending task of keeping the curriculum up to date, books and supplies ordered, and making everyone happy. What do you do when you come to a new school, in a new city, and you don't know ANYONE? Cisco Barquero was faced with the same dilemma that we've all experienced at one time or another, when he moved to Corona during second quarter. "I thought it was bunk . . . no friends . . . no nothing . . ." " . . . I thought I'd never make any friends!" But then fate stepped in, as it often does in these desperate situations, and Cisco was transferred into Mr. Baughman's third period art class. And that's where Rob Gonzales and Lee Ruiz came into the picture. At first Cisco thought . . . "Oh Great, a bunch of 'art' people . . ." but as it turned "there were some 'normal' people in there. Some of them, like Rob, were even cool." "It all started when he asked me to go to a football game with his woman, Jennifer, and Lee." . . . After the game Rob gave me a ride home." And Cisco thought, "Hey dude, that's cool, I might have some friends!" A week later Cisco had moved into Rob's locker and, like they say, the rest is history. And what does Rob think of his new friend? "He's practically part of the family now." There are a few wrinkles to iron out though, Rob says, "he snores too loud . . ." And Cisco comes back with, "I don't like that rap junk, or soul stuff that he listens to. But thats ok, it gives us something to fight about."

INDUSTRIAL

ARTS

Way off yonder in buildings far, far away are the Industrial Arts and Agriculture Departments. For many students, they were just buildings but for those enrolled, the walls held never ending hours of thought, plan, frustration, skill and reward. In Mr. Bryant's agriculture and ornamental horticulture classes you learned the basics of farm and animal management and just how much work goes into caring and maintaining trees and plants. In Mr. Burdick's woodshop and Mr. Gallaway's metal shop, there was a sense of pride in mastering the tools and materials of wood and metal. And when the finished product appeared the pride showed from within the student and in awards earned both on the regional and state levels. Mr. Gonzales and Mr. Woodward were the 'chiefs' of the auto shops, teaching their classes that "Quality is Job One!" And Mr. Doerr, who's drafting classes were prone to bring out more frustration and impatience than yearbook production itself! But Mr. Doerr's great demos and never ending patience were just what the students needed to build up their confidence! (not to mention their grades!) Photo 1. The Regional Occupational Program, R.O.P., provided students with on the job training in various courses by giving them basic job skills. Students prepared themselves for jobs and earned credit towards graduation. Students received a Certificate of Training after completing a course. For students who already had jobs, the Work Experience Program was a special course that offered credit for working towards graduation. Steven Lopez and Alex Serrato, both workers for the City of Corona, loved the idea of getting payed and credit too! Photo 1. Este ha sido un año de "grandes y bonitas experiencias" para mí y Nu sientto muy contenta de haber estado aquí, en California (Corona) y especialmente en esta escuela, CHS. Donde he conocido a maravillosas personas y hecho grandes amistades, las cuales me han ayudado al aprendizaje del Inglés y muchas otras ma's. Gracias por todo a mis queridos amigos. También quiero agradecer a mis profesores por la ayuda y la paciencia que tuvieron. Estoy muy feliz de haber venido. Y a mis amigos en Panamá les recomendaré venir a Corona y especialmente a CHS, ya sea para aprender Inglés o para visitar (conocer). Ya que encontraré personas amigables aquí. Sé que los voy a extrañar, y espero regresar "muy" pronto. Maysiri

Vielleicht erinnern sich einige an mich, Frank aus Deutschland. Ich lebte hier fast ein ganzes Jahr lang und fühle mich, als ob ich hier aufgewachsen wäre. Deshalb ist es schwer für mich, mich von all meinen Freunden zu verabschieden. Aber ich komme wieder.

This has been a year of "grand and beautiful experiences" for me, and I feel very happy to be here in California (Corona), especially in this school, CHS, where I have met marvelous people, and I have made great friends which have helped me learn English and many other things. Thanks for everything, dear friends. Also, I would like to thank my teachers for their help and patience. I am very happy for everything and I will recommend to my friends in Panama to come to Corona and especially to CHS. Either to visit or to study, since there are very friendly people here. I will miss everyone, and I hope to return very soon . . . Maysiri Nunez. Maybe some of you remember me, Frank, from Germany. I stayed here for a whole year and I felt as if I had lived here all my life. That's why it is difficult for me to say good-bye to all my good friends. But I'll be back . . . Frank Vial.
Hi! I'm Minna, a Finnish exchange student. I came here in August '87 and after graduation I'll fly back to Finland. California is hot and fascinating. I

The guidance counselors were the people in the front office who helped find programs which were interesting and helped prepare us for jobs or college. The senior counselors were Mr. Pucci and Dr. Gibson, they helped with the annual CAP testing, college applications, being impressive on scholarship applications and making important career choices. Mrs. Mackey organized the College Fair and Ms. Rogers ran a personal hot line in addition to their regular duties making sure students were on the right track towards graduation. Other times, counselors took care of our personal problems as they guided our days. Photo 1. Mrs. Mackey 2. Mr. Pucci 3. Mrs. Rogers 4. Dr. Gibson 5. Mrs. Mackey 6. Mr. Cash.

DATING GAME

3

"What!! A dating game, with bachelors and bachelorettes, dates, and everything?? Here at Corona High?" Yes, it was not a lie. The first Annual Dating Game, CHS style, in honor of Valentine's Day and the Sadie Hawkins dance (it was leap year). Brave Panthers who were willing to put their love on the line signed up to be in a drawing to see who would win a spot at the once in a lifetime opportunity. Names were drawn to determine who would be the contestants and bachelor/bachelorettes. At lunch, in front of a massive crowd (unbelievable!) contestants were given a chance to ask a few "rated PG" questions of their possible dates and finally, chose the lucky love who they would share a dream date with. Actually, the dream date turned out to be dinner at Cupids restaurant. The couples met at the CHS parking lot and were escorted to Cupids by chaperones (Mrs. Hadcox, Chrissy Wolfe, Scott Longerbone, and of course Dan Mahn and Gary Hawley, who captured the entire evening on video). Upon arriving at Cupids the dates encountered a romantic atmosphere set off with candle light and a ka-zoo serenade "I've Had The Time of My Life." After dinner the couples danced the night away (some just went away) at the Sadie Hawkins dance. A match made in Heaven? Well, that's for you to decide. Jill Thacker rated her date a 9! Photo 1. Home Economics is a vocational program that included courses in cooking, sewing, and home and family planning. Felix Esparza and Kathy Alvarez learned the basis of cooking and nutrition in cooking class. Maggie Estrada and Launa Lomeli learned how to make their own clothes in sewing class. In Interior Decorating, Shelly Guzman and Rita Salas learned how to properly decorate and plan homes. Seniors such as Sylvia Alvarez, Joel Jimenez, Nena Cervantez, and Steven Lopez acknowledged Comprehension Skills in On Your Own. Ray Nieto and Margaret Alvarez enjoyed the experience working with children in day care centers for Child Care Development. Overall, Home Economics enables students to learn about the outside world without having to depend on mummy and daddy. Photo: 1. Alma Alvarez and Armando Montes. 2. TRIAL Mo

Was Carey Friendly guilty of stealing two JBC VCR's? Did the undercover police have a right to go into Carey Friendly's home and arrest him? How was one to know? There was no jury, but there was a judge, a real judge, and many judges, all listening to the lawyers and witnesses to see if Carey Friendly was guilty or innocent. On Saturday, February 20, and Saturday, February 27, Corona High's Mock Trial Team was at work, competing against 14 other schools at the Riverside County Court House. In each round, one school's defense would go against another's prosecution and visa-versa. The cases were judged in different courtrooms, with judges, assisted by real court attorneys, awarding points to decide the final verdicts. For the defense, playing the accused, Carey Friendly was Brent Classick. Playing Friendly's friends were Lisa Mattocks as Tracy Bell, Kalyn Scubnell as Terry Nelson, Erin Massey as Dana Smith. The attorneys for the defense were: Adrian Phillips — Pretrial motion, Jeff Sundquist — Opening statement, direct examination, and re-direct questioning, Richard Muirhead — Cross examination and closing arguments. The witnesses for the prosecution were: Monica Coleman as Officer Robin Sanford, Denise Johnson as Officer Sam Story, Ratesch Patel as Sean Richards, and of course LaShonda Long as Jule Young. The attorneys for the prosecution were: Josh Burgess — Pretrial arguments, Micheal Caldwell — Opening statement, and cross examination, Keith Fenstermacher — Direct examination, re-direct questioning, and cross examination, Joanne Levy — Direct examination, re-direct questioning, and closing arguments. Bailiff was Tim Barnhart, and Clerk was Angela Pate.

The Mock Trial team competed in three rounds on Saturday, Feb. 20. In round one, Corona's defense went up against Norco's prosecution, we lost the verdict, but won the round because of the number of points. In round two, both the prosecution and defense met Norte Vista's prosecution while the prosecution went against San Jacinto's defense and won both. Round three, Ramona's defense met Corona's tough prosecution team and again, we won the round. On the following week-end Corona competed in round four against Poly's prosecution, but we lost a tough heartbreaking match. This loss put the team in the consolation round to compete against Norco's defense and we won. Corona placed third overall behind Poly and North in a closely scored final. Four people from Corona were nominated for individual trophies: Joanne Levy — Best Prosecution lawyer; Richard Muirhead — Best Defensive lawyer; Monica Coleman — Best prosecution witness; and Brent Glassick — Best Defensive witness. From these four nominations, Richard Muirhead won the honors. Photo 1. Michael Caldwell 2. Joanne Levy 3. Denise Johnson 4. Monica Coleman 5. Keith Fenstermaucher 6. Josh Burgess. 7. LaShonda Long.

From the polished performance of the Madrigal singers; the intricate patterns of a field show or triple tonguing of the trumpet solo, centering on the potter's wheel; setting the lights on stage; understanding the developing process; to excuting a self-portrait; the need to express one's self took many sides and faces on campus as students tried to understand their individual need to be different. For many, such as Antoinette Sweigheimer and Robert Gonzales, their expressions were truly many sided; vocal music, clay, and dance to Roberts' 50' rock, drama or the subtle shades of his drawing pencil; the creative arts gave them a outlet for their inner selves. Michelle, Well you did it. I don't know how but you did.
When we first met I thought you were a total Bitch. But that was just Jen Smith talking,
you one of the best friends any person
could have. Thank you for everything. I am going to miss you next year. Best of

Well gang, who would have thought that after all the years of sweating over exams, rushing through the congested hallways and being hassled by Ruby or Security that the year would end so soon. So, in order to keep those wonderful memories of CHS fresh in our minds, the class of 88 was asked to participate in a survey in which the following questions were asked: What event will always bring your thoughts back to your senior year: Rob Grant said he won't remember anything because he'll still be here; Sylvia Alvarez — he'll remember Halloween because Hugh Livingstone dressed up as a pirate and drove around his car as "The Boat"; Kristine Seigers graduation; Matt Forest said Homecoming — "Making the floats, that was a blast!"; Matiana Medina, "When Alma Alvarez was crowned Homecoming Queen 1987-88. Mecha supported her and it paid off!" When they were asked what they do after a long day at school, Kristen Woolworth said, "Sleep!!"; Allen Umbarger, "I go home, take a shower, and get ready for a long day of work, then I go home and, well, almost always never do my homework!" Cyndi Brown, "Kick off my shoes and grab a quick dinner. Then spend the rest of the evening listening to gossip on the phone!" The seniors were asked to name a song, and who they would like to dedicate it to. Sonia Franco, "Friends", to all my friends at CHS; Dan Rodriguez, "Let's Go," to Brenda Cunningham; Suzy Waddell, "Love will keep us together," to Melissa Bowers; Chris Knaak, "I'm Bad!", to Ruby; Ursi Conejo, "Melt with you," to John Sano; Greg DeRuyter, "I think I'm turning Japanese", to Jimmy Anderson; Rob Grant, "Eat my shorts," to r. Newton; Allen Urbarger, "Master and servants," to the whole senior class, and may we all be tied up for the rest of our lives!" Then we asked them: What do you think you and your friends will be doing in the year 2010? Keri King, "Rotting in a casket"; Chele Bello, "Getting involved in Senior Citizens' activities!"; Allen Umbarger, Eric Kasperbauer will be a pro skater or rabbi. I'll still be looking for a date and my Hawaiian shirts will be back in style; Ursi Cornejo, "Telling our parents we are going to the movies, when we are really going to a raging party, even though we'll be 40!"; Deana Roy, "Sue will be a doctor who likes to inflict pain on everyone, Dai will be a psychologist — but more nutty than her patients, Joanne will be a lawyer defending maniacs, and I will be torturing poor little animals as a vet! HA HA GUYS!!"; Kim Foster, "Denise Brown will be leading a peace movement, the BFB's will be kicking back watching football and drinking beer, Amy Allen will be on the silver screen as Marilyn Monroe #2!" Then we asked the seniors what their most embarrassing moment at CHS was. Sharlynn Mote, "When I backed my car into a basketball pole and knocked my bumper loose in front of the football team."; Paul Ely "I was on the football team!"; Shelly McCall, "When I was playing catch on the football field during halftime at a football game and I slipped and fell on my face in the mud."; Ronnie Robles, "When I squirted ketchup on Amy Allen at lunch."; Maureen Savage, "Walking around school all day with chocolate milk spilled down my shirt."; Rob Grant, "I got pantsed in the middle of the library by who knows who!"; Irma Ramirez, "When I slipped on a pickle."; Robert Rivera, "The hula-hoop contest at snack." When they were asked what changes they thought they'd see at their 20 year reunion, Lara Brenneman said, "Jason Francis will be fat, bald, married, and have lots of kids."; Sonia Franco, "Grey hair and wrinkles!"; Steve Burkette, "My friends just might mature, but I doubt it!!"; Shane Weebe, "A few gray hairs, sagging bodies, and inflated wallets."; Kim Foster, "Sean Cotto will finally be tall!"; Sue Lee, "Dai and Deana will be mega fat trying to lose weight!" We also asked them what political figure they would remember from 1987-88. Well, 34 seniors said Oliver North, to name a few: Derek Boyer, Stacey Ryals, Jackie Baryliski, Kerry King, Lara Brenneman, Cyndi Brown, Greg DeRuyter, Steve Burkette, Cheri Lara, Marc Zamora, Kristi Perez, Matt Forester, and Cyndi Kasky. Linda Howard, Eddie Espinoza, and Kristine Siegers said Ronald Reagan. Ronnie Roblex said, "Mr. Palmatier and his new showings!" Lastly, we asked the seniors: If you could go on a fantasy date, who would you take with you, and where would you go? Ursi Cornejo said, "If I could go on a fantasy date, it would be a double date. I would take River Pheonix with me, and Christy Fisher and Kirk Cameron would double date with us. All four of us would take a private jet to Australia, have a limo pick us up at the airport and take us to a formal restaurant, and after dinner a romantic walk on the beach with maybe a glass of champagne."; Dana Wright, "I'd take the guy on the billboard in Calvin Klein underwear & we'd go to the beach and eat pizza on the sand while watching the sun set. Then we'd go shopping and buy him some clothes, it gets cold walking around in your underwear!!"; Chris Knaak, "I would take Mrs. Hadcox and we'd go to Las Vegas and bowl!" Well, the time has come to say goodbye, so "Thanks for the memories!!" We'll see you at the reunion!

KARRY, You're a very special person to me. Even we have had some hard time
but we made it.
Thank you for being there when I needed you.
I LOVE YOU - Ronda Love Lisa

RICK,
We have been through some tough times
but it never has stopped me from loving
you. You are special to me in every way.
I will love you always
and forever!
Love you Always,
Maria

I THANK YOU KATHY.
YOU ARE SOOOOOO

Special times
we spent through at the years. And finally we still
made it together.
Happiness we wish for all of you
Clem & John Alcalá

Donna, well my time has come for me to graduate and finally, after 18 years move away from Corona.
You are super special to me and I will always love you. I couldn't have asked God for a more perfect sister. It's your turn now so take your dreams all the way. And to all my friends thank for all the wonderful times. I'll miss you all. Love
Seniors 88! DeAnna

DeAnna, Well school
is done for you +.
I have to go the
last year by myself.
I guess I'll make it but it won't be the same. I can't wait till the wedding. I'm glad you found John.
Good luck being a married woman.
I love you lots. Thanks for being there. Love your sis

To the greatest pals
in the world:
- "Idaho spud" - you always made me smile
even when things were down. Thanks for helping me with "storm" &
"Indecision" (my two favorite guys) I know things haven't worked out
the greatest for either of us but I hope "October"
was brighter this year!
- Keith-n-Matt (my two special blockers) Let's do lunch!
- Brian Glenn - Sorry!
- Lynella, Mary, Casey,
Michelle & Amy - you guys are the greatest friends in the world!
- Hall of Castro (my Jack bud), Ken, Corey, Kim, Greg, Archuleta, Marc,
Castillas, & Small Fry!
- Erika! I love you all!
Denise

P.R. '86~
You are absolutely
the greatest! Thanks for making my high school years so special!
I'm sure that I love you so bad but I hope that you enjoyed yourself as much as I did! I will never ever forget you! I hope that someday we will be better friends! I love you with all my heart

BEST TO DATE IS 88!!!

OK OK I know there was supposed to be pictures here!! But, as usual, I was a little late getting them in! So what else is new? Sorry gang! BUT for your reading enjoyment I've written a few lines for you!! I think I'll start with Kari - Pooch! What can I say to you? I could fill the whole book - it still not be done. You are so important to me - we've been "there" and back a few 100 times! CU! Lórcal, T.B. handle it, Whitney, George, Patrick, A.N!, yellow spray paint, the moon, can someone PLEASE show me to my spaceship?! I'm waiting!! The initials I want to write but won't because - well you know why Mr. A! Those legs!, football games, forces, what's your limit, got a problem with that buddy? I love you! Good luck with whatever it is your going to do - I'll miss you!! Always remember - be a rebel, that I care, our senior year. Bye! Whenever there's a Kari SEMI follows - Soon your a jerk!! HA not-cha I love you too! Take good care of my buddy K? Palmatier who? KIM F-F: Babaloo - we're off 2 Hawaii!! U were the BEST person to talk to - you always made it seem a little bit easier, thanks for showing me what's always been right there, for never letting me forget how special REAL friends are! R.C.C. students are people too LHM of July SAM! Ursulas house, leadership on my gosh! C.S.C. Yuck! Palm Springs, my dead car, your family, the secret of for... but I can't!! Maybe someone will let the cat out of the bag!... got some catnip? Franner - your in heat get it fixed! the horses, I feel Freddie, I want it! I have to share, S.S. hee! hee! good luck police woman! Cheri - my 2nd family! chemistry, hot chocolate, that's nice - no grandmas! would u stop looking at me like that!! I love you, Good Luck, don't forget all our fun times! Ewols what? ... Anti - who is it this week? HA! Rhonda Melissa Debbie Kripchuck! 7 steps! why I despair! I was just wondering... leadership - thanks 4 putting up w/ me! Gloria! Jill! can you please take care of this? Gary Dan Keith if you didn't video tape it, sound check it, it didn't happen!! Digrim Fines, CAPA, never forget our times 1987-88. Anyone who was in a snack activity or who dressed up or had to listen to my awful sophomore jokes - THANK! Senior class of 88 - we did it!! anyone? everyone thanks for the memories! Mr. B - thank you! take care tell gomer I said hi! We're off to where ever it is graduates go! Hope all my friends never forget all the super fantastic times we had - good luck? Happiness - I'm gonna miss you so much! I'll never forget my years at good ol CHS! LOVE you! The Best to date will ALWAYS be 88! Chrissy -

Michelle,

I'll gonna miss you, but at least have these memories of you so I won't forget you. You're a real one. You have a lot to offer.

GOTCHA!

I know you'll be there in the big world. May we keep in touch with each other!
I wish we could have talked more often.

Hi michelene. This is a really bizarre place to write in a year book

649 w Citron, Denver CO 80210. @ All see you at R.C.C. on 2

but oh well. It looks like we might pass Tirdall after all, but I'm not going to hold my breath. We had alot of fun this year, and I don't even know how I will spend my to hold my breath. We had alot of fun this year, and I don't even know how I will spend my

Oh well, I'll me a cell sometime (737-9174) so we can go party.

Michellelene,

Like the tire? You're really a Serial oops!!!
 Good luck in the future with cottage
 and more luck with the male species!!

Remember the string that's tied to
